LIGHTNING ATTACK ON CANTON

Mass Formation Drops Death on City

Canton, July 13.

Canton shuddered this morning at the terrifying clatter of anti-aircraft fire and the roar of planes flying in mass formation, as the Japanese appeared over the city for their second raid in 24 hours.

The city had only ten minutes' warning before 24 raiders appeared through the clouds.

In ten minutes, between 8.10 a.m. and 8.20 a.m., they dropped at least 20 bombs in the vicinity of the Government buildings, the missiles exploding so closely together that the deafening roar was almost continuous.

The raid was over almost as soon as it had started. Fifteen minutes after they appeared over the city, the Japanese planes flew across the Pearl River to Honam Island where, as a parting gesture, they dropped a number of bombs in the vicinity of the Lingnam University.

They disappeared at 8.30 a.m.—United Press.

Reuter adds that two or three bombs were dropped near the Pearl River bridge.

Death Over Wuchang

Wuchang, July 12.
The police officially report that 99 bombs were dropped in today's raid. One hundred and fifty people were killed and 200 injured. Number of buildings demolished totalled 150.—United Press.

Air Forces Active

Hankow, July 12.
Considerable air activity was displayed by both the Chinese and Japanese air forces along the Yangtze to-day.

The Chinese planes showed renewed vigour in their operations in the vicinity of Kluikang, bombing the Japanese naval concentrations attempting to pierce the boom 15 miles below the city.

While Japanese planes were bombing Kluikang, the Chinese machines caused the Japanese at Hsiangchow causing, it is believed, considerable damage.—Trans-Ocean.

JAPANESE REPLY RECEIVED

But U.S. Still Not Quite Satisfied

Washington, July 12.
The United States Government has received from Japan a comprehensive reply to the Note of May 31, protesting against the Japanese treatment of American property and citizens in China.

The Note is believed to embody the recommendations of an official Japanese Commission which was sent from Tokyo to examine the situation on the spot.

Announcing the receipt of the Japanese reply, Mr. Cordell Hull, the Secretary of State, said it was extensive. But there were still some points needing clarification.—Reuter.

JAPANESE THREATEN BRITON

Demand Peiping Journalist's Endorsation Of Investigation

Peiping, July 13.

The British Embassy to-day is making representations to the Japanese Embassy concerning the veiled threats made by a Japanese Staff Officer, Major Shigeyasu, against the personal safety of Reuter's correspondent here.

Mr. Frank Oliver, the correspondent concerned, was formerly employed in Hongkong. He has refused to endorse the findings of Japanese investigators which are an opposite conclusion to Mr. Oliver's eye-witness report of the slapping of the wife of the Governor of Hopei.

Mrs. Kao Ling-wei was twice slapped by a Japanese sentry at the railway station because she had smoked a cigarette.

The correspondent offered to publish the Japanese version of the affair but the officer who interviewed him said this would not be sufficient. The correspondent, he said, must endorse the Japanese investigations, although Mr. Oliver had no connection with the findings.

The officer added that the matter had "aroused some feeling and your personal safety may be endangered."—Reuter.

Lord Perth Sees Ciano

Diplomats May Try To Hurry Accord

London, July 12.
Discussions in Rome between the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Ciano, and the British Ambassador, Lord Perth, have given political circles here the impression that new developments are imminent in the negotiations to bring the Anglo-Italian agreement into effect.

It is announced that Lord Perth suggested that the discussions should be held, and that the British Ambassador made a definite proposition to the Italian Foreign Minister.

Further conversations are expected to take place between Count Ciano and Lord Perth before the end of the week.—Trans-Ocean.

London Still Discussing Loan to China

King Still Confined To His Bed

London, July 12.
A Bulletin issued at the Royal Lodge, Windsor, and signed by Sir John Weir and Lord Dawson of Penn, Physicians Ordinary to the King, states that His Majesty continues to make satisfactory progress.

His Majesty is remaining in bed for the present, the Bulletin continues. It is understood that the doctors are well satisfied with the King's progress, but in view of the coming visit to Paris wish to take no risks; hence the decision that His Majesty should remain in bed for the next day or so.—Reuter.

KING RECOVERED

London, July 12.
It is officially announced that His Majesty the King has practically recovered from his illness. He is reported to have held a telephone conversation with the Duke of Windsor in Cannes.—United Press.

TWO ARABS TO HANG AT ACRE

Essex Regiment At Haifa Now

Haifa, July 12.
Two Arabs have been sentenced by the Military Court to be hanged at Acre.

The First Battalion of the Essex Regiment arrived at Haifa this afternoon.—Reuter.

TERROR STILL REIGNS

Haifa, July 12.
Palestine's third day of terror began this afternoon when two bombs were thrown within an hour of each other at a post office van, slightly injuring one Jew.

Another bomb thrown in the Arab quarter exploded harmlessly. Two fires, believed to be the work of incendiaries, are raging in the Arab quarter.

Another bomb, flung at a Jewish bus, was followed by shots. Neither caused any casualties.

Enter two Jews were seriously injured by a bomb flung at the entrance to a paper mill, where a Jew and a Jewess were stoned by Arabs.

An Arab preacher employed at the Mosque of Omar was shot and killed in Jerusalem, but it is believed that the assassins were Arab extremists and not Jews.—Reuter.

HUGHES WELL AHEAD OF POST'S RECORD FOR WORLD FLIGHT

New York, July 12.

Howard Hughes has reached the half-way mark in his 13,000-mile flight around the world in less than two days.

Hurting across Europe and Siberia, he reached Omsk, on the trans-Siberian line, at 9 p.m. Moscow time (1 a.m. this morning Hongkong Time), and almost immediately departed again for Irkutsk.

The total elapsed time from New York to Omsk, via Paris and Moscow, was 35 hours, 11 minutes.

The airman and his four companions hopped off from Paris at 1.24 a.m. B.S.T. and reached Moscow at 11.16 a.m. (9.16 a.m. B.S.T.), covering France, Germany, Poland and part of Soviet Russia, a distance of 1,075 miles, in just under eight hours. Staying only long enough to refuel his Lockheed monoplane, "New York World Fair, 1939," Hughes took off from Moscow at 1.31 p.m. (11.31 a.m. B.S.T.) for his long flight across the wastes of Siberia and the Arctic to Alaska.

At Moscow he was 17 1/4 hours ahead of the record time set by the late Wiley Post on his solo flight around the world over the same route in 1931.

The flight from Moscow to Omsk took only 7 hours, 29 minutes, the plane landing gracefully at the Siberian airport at 9 p.m., Moscow Time (7 p.m., B.S.T.).

The National Broadcasting Corporation, which is continuously broadcasting messages from Hughes over its radio net work, announced this morning that the airman were winning across Siberia to Irkutsk, their next stop, leaving Omsk at 11.37 p.m. B.S.T.

It is possible, however, that they will continue directly to Yakutsk, 1,200 miles beyond Irkutsk, if conditions remain favourable. Hughes' headquarters in New York disclosed that Germany granted the millionaire airman permission to cross from France to Poland and Soviet Russia only on condition that he followed a specified route, and maintained at all times an altitude of 10,000 feet.

From Omsk the plane's itinerary is as follows:
Omsk to Yakutsk, 2,443 miles;
Yakutsk to Fairbanks (Alaska), 2,455 miles;
Fairbanks to New York, 3,380 miles.—United Press.

AMERICAN FINANCE LEADERS ACCUSED

$1,000,000 Income Tax Evaded, Says Federal Body

Washington, July 12.
Two of America's greatest financiers, John Jacob Raskob and Pierre Du Pont, were accused to-day by the United States Board of Tax Appeals of evading income tax amounting to over U.S.$1,000,000 in 1929.

The Board of Tax Appeals alleges that the two financiers evaded taxation by "paper transactions" in securities, says United Press.

Raskob, who visited Hongkong in March, 1935, as a round-trip world passenger aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain was formerly Vice-President of General Motors Corporation, and took the post of National Chairman of the Democratic Party in 1928. Shortly afterwards, however, he split with President Roosevelt and became one of the founders of the Liberty League.

Pierre Du Pont is Chairman of the famous munitions firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours.

The Board of Tax Appeals has left the exact amount of taxes to be determined later. It is estimated that Raskob might be involved to the extent of about $1,000,000 and du Pont to about $800,000.

The claim made on behalf of the two financiers that the stock transactions between them were bona fide.—(Continued on Page 4.)

AMERICA PREPARED TO ENTER INTO NEW SILVER AGREEMENT

Chinese Using Funds Thus Obtained to Buy Arms

London, July 12.

It is understood that the question of a loan for China has been constantly under consideration in London. Various suggestions have been made but it is gathered that matters have not yet reached a point where a decision can be reached.—Reuter.

APPALLING SUFFERING REALISED

London, July 12.

It is recognised in London that the situation in the Far East appears to offer no prospect of mediation at present but if the British Government were to see at any moment a hopeful chance of doing good in that sphere it would take that opportunity, either alone or in concert with other nations. This is the view of Reuter's diplomatic correspondent.

Observers in London are extremely conscious of the appalling numbers involved in the suffering which has resulted from the Far East conflict.—Reuter.

France Denies Warships Off Paracel Group

Paris, July 12.
Japanese reports from Hongkong regarding the presence of French warships at the Paracel Islands are authoritatively and emphatically denied.—Reuter.

FOREIGN PROPERTY FORTIFIED

Owners Protest But Embassy Declines To Interfere

Shanghai, July 13.

It is learned in reliable quarters that the Chinese have begun fortifying the properties of foreign firms in Kluikang, notably the Asiatic Petroleum Company, Jardine, Matheson and Company and banks' buildings, entrenchments, reinforcing the walls and cutting loop-holes, for riflemen and machine gunners.

The foreign companies have made urgent representations to the Chinese Government in order to halt this work, announcing they will hold the Government responsible for any damage to their property as a result of such fortification and in the event of a Japanese attack.

The British Embassy has been requested also to protest to the Chinese Government, but it is gathered that as yet the Embassy has refused to act, holding the view that the Chinese Government has the right to use any means to defend the country, including the use of foreign-owned property, providing it is prepared to indemnify foreigners for any loss resulting.

It is reported that the United States Ambassador, who is in Hankow, has vigorously protested to the Chinese authorities against the destruction of the Socony Company pontoons, near Kluikang, by which the Chinese hoped to block the approach of Japanese warships.—Reuter.

Hankow, July 12.

Seeking New Silver Agreement With U.S.

Washington, July 12.

It is learned that China this week will seek a new silver agreement with the United States Government. It has been tentatively arranged that Chinese representatives should confer with officials of the Treasury and members of the Government have already indicated that the United States is willing to continue buying Chinese silver.

The proposed new pact would be the fifth made since May, 1936, under which the United States has purchased about 300,000,000 ounces of metal.

Meanwhile, Treasury officials said most of the Chinese credits which resulted from the sale of silver had been converted into dollars, with which war supplies had been purchased.—United Press.

WITNESS TAKEN ILL

Twenty minutes after the resumption of the final day's hearing of the Chailin Murder Case, Dr. M. O. Pfister, who had been undergoing a gruelling cross-examination by the Crown Prosecutor, Mr. J. Wyatt, complained of feeling ill, and the Court was adjourned to allow him to recover.

Lam Chun, former cook-boy, is charged with having murdered Mrs. Sybil Chailin at her home on the Peak, and yesterday admitted the assault when on the stand.

Dr. Pfister went into the box this morning to be cross-examined on the evidence he gave yesterday that accused was a case of epileptic equivalent.

In point of fact, you are not on the London register?—Not at present.

How long is it since you were on the London register?—I don't know.

Would it be ten years or twenty years?—I took examinations in 1910. Can you give me some idea when you were on the London register?—I cannot say, because I left London immediately afterwards, as I did not intend to practice there.

"RUSTIC" SUMMER FROCKS

London, June 10.
SOME of the smartest clothes of the season have a certain rustic air which is most attractive—and very deceptive too. For it is all too easy to look anything but smart on this type of clothes. Make-up has to be beautifully arranged and your hair has to have a well-groomed look if you are to go "rustic" successfully.

And then you can wear a white chiffon afternoon frock, scattered over with poppies, with a tiny ruched bodice, small puffed sleeves, a very, very full skirt, and a bit of poppy coloured ribbon velvet tied around your waist—and look quite enchanting.

Similar dresses, with ground length skirts, are worn in the evening, too. The fair and slender will love an organza dress printed all over in blues and mauish pinks, and having a waist belt of turquoise blue velvet. The skirt is, again, enormously full, and the bodice is quite small, with a very low-cut square neckline, edged with narrow self-frilling.

By
Yvonne

Afternoon dresses of plain fabric with full skirts are made of plain linen in light colours or white, and have square necklines and bodices buttoned down the front, the edges being trimmed with rickrack braid in a dark colour such as navy blue. Black or navy rickrack braid trims similar frocks made of printed cotton.

Navy blue sarah silk, closely spotted in white, is a clever exponent of this rustic idea. The dress has a closely fitted bodice buttoned down the front and finished by a tiny white silk turned-down collar, and short plain sleeves. The narrow waistband is of the same fabric, and the chief point of interest is the skirt which is enormously full, being gored and also folded over into unpressed pleats all along the waistline.

Another very "fetching" pseudo-rustic outfit has a dress made of black silk—again with a very full skirt. There is a design of white marigolds embroidered around the high neckline, and down the front of the skirt. The hat worn with it is of the bonnet type, worn demurely upon the back of the head, the brim being edged with white killed frilling.

Dresses of net, printed in a large checked design, are also popular just now.

ONE such frock in navy and white plaid net has a tailored bodice, with a white collar to match the cuffs on the straight little sleeves, and a skirt which is pleated all the way round.

Organdie is a fabric which lends itself admirably to the rustic type of frock. Printed organdie is responsible for an attractive model in red and white. The fitted bodice has a high neck and the tiny, puffed sleeves consist of red and white bands. The skirt, very full, of course, has deep bands of scarlet and white organdie at the hem.

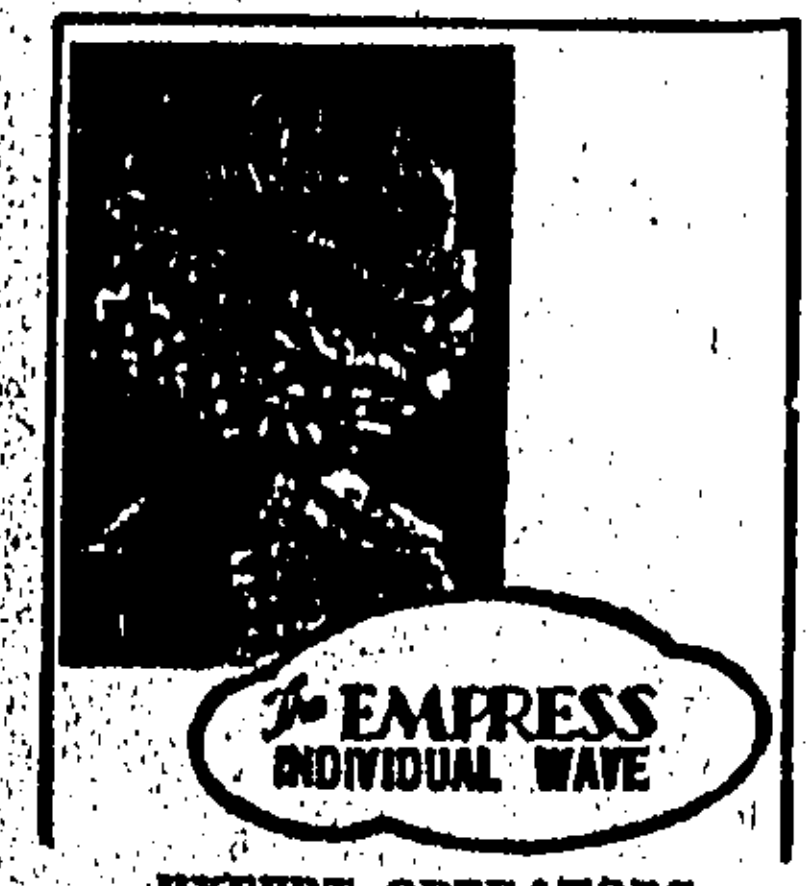

This dress would be lovely for summer dances, while worn with a wide brimmed white hat it would look equally well at garden parties.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Cost—And You'll Jump Out of Bed Full of Vigor.

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks puny.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these famous Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and making you feel "up and up". It's easy, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red package. Refuse anything else.

Cheese Nests
French Chips
Savoury Rissoles

So here are some suggestions for dressing up the old potatoes so that they taste good.

Cheese Nests

You'll like cheese potato nests. The filling is sufficient for four large potatoes. Ingredients: 4 large old potatoes, 1 egg, 2 tablespoonfuls melted cheese, 3 tablespoonfuls milk, 1 teaspoonful finely chopped parsley, 1oz. margarine, salt and pepper.

Scrub the potatoes and bake them in their skins. When cooked, cut in halves and scrape the potato carefully into a small stewpan, keeping the skins whole.

Add the cheese, margarine, yolk of the egg, and parsley, season with salt and pepper, and mix well over a gentle heat.

Beat the egg white stiffly and stir lightly into the mixture, then fill the potato skins with the mixture, piling it high.

Brush over with a little yolk of egg and bake in a moderate oven for 15 minutes. Regulate mark 4.

Eggs in Potato

A suggestion for high tea or supper. Scrub well as many large potatoes as required, allowing one per person. Bake in the oven or under a fire grate until cooked.

With a cloth remove the skin and mash the potato with a small bit of margarine or butter and a little milk. Form into nests with the hands.

Poach an egg for each nest, and place one in each. Sprinkle with finely chopped, fresh parsley, and serve hot.

French Chips

Another good way to serve old potatoes is to cut them into thin slices, about half an inch thick, and dip into a batter made with egg, flour and milk, frying until golden brown.

These are called French chips. Served with spinach on toast they are a meal in themselves.

Potato & Onion

Savoury supper dish. Peel some potatoes and cut in slices a quarter of an inch thick. Grease a fire-proof dish and put in a layer of these slices.

Cover with slices of onion, season, put in a few pieces of margarine or butter and some grated cheese. Repeat these layers until the dish is full, finishing with cheese and a few dots of margarine. Bake in a rather quick oven till the potatoes are well cooked. Serve piping hot.

Served with Sauce

Old potatoes are really appetizing cooked this way. They are half cooked, then cut in rather thick slices and most of the water drained away. Then add a dash of lemon juice and salt to the water, and cook until tender.

Now make a white sauce by blending a tablespoonful of cornflour and a knob of butter together, then add half-pint of milk, or milk and water, and stir until it is like a thick cream.

Sprinkle a squeeze of onion juice over the potatoes, pour over the sauce, and add a sprinkling of chopped parsley.

A little grated cheese on top and slices of toast make this a most appetizing dish.

Try This Pie

Here is another potato dish, for meat eaters. Cut the potatoes up in slices, as if for chips, put a layer in a casserole, add a sprinkling of chopped hard-boiled egg, and some pieces of cold cooked ham or mutton or veal.

Now add another layer of potatoes until the dish is filled. Put in some good dripping, cover with the lid and bake until the potatoes are cooked.

Take off the lid, cover with breadcrumbs thickly, and bake again until they are browned on top. This dish, served with cauliflower to which you have added white sauce, makes a nice change for supper.

Savoury Rissoles

These are light and delicious. Allow one potato to each person. Boil the potatoes in their skins, peel and mash them. Separate the yolk from the white of an egg, beat the yolk and add to the mashed potato, mixing well and seasoning with pepper and salt.

Flour your hands, form the potato into balls, and dip in the beaten white of the egg and then into breadcrumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat and drain on paper. Serve very hot.

Nourishing Soup

This is best made after you have had a small joint of veal, as veal stock makes the best foundation for the soup. But any white stock will do.

Slice a pound of potatoes and two or three small onions. Melt some dripping in a pan and stir the vegetables in this. Pour over them nearly two pints of stock, boiling, and add seasoning.

Cook gently till the potatoes are quite tender. Pass through a sieve and serve with chopped parsley sprinkled over the soup.

Hair styles of today make careful washing a necessity. Ordinary soaps should be avoided. The free alkali they contain soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it under the frequent shampoos necessary to keep the hair beautiful.

MOTHERS ANGERED BY TALK ABOUT HAVING BABIES

"From all my experience I can say that the chief trouble at the time of birth is temperament or nerves."—AN EX-MIDWIFE.

Only when they reached the subject of babies and the problems of having them did 8,000 gentlemanly country women, crowded recently into the Albert Hall, raise their voices. Then their well-ordered twenty-first annual meeting of Women's Institutes exploded in a din of fury, hot words, and "whooping," the feminine equivalent of booing.

Opposing the use of analgesia (nerve-dulling by means of drugs or gas) in childbirth, tiny Miss A. E. Stanton of Aldenham, Hereford, chirped into the microphone, "I'm a midwife—or I would say an ex-midwife, and from all my experience I can say that the chief trouble at the time of birth is temperament or nerves."

That set off the bombardment. From Cornwall, right under the roof, down to Surrey in the front rows, the whooping reverberated and a hundred voices screamed above the tumult, "Who are you? Are you a mother? Have you any children?" until the little speaker retired.

WE SAY PAIN MUST BE REMOVED

The Hon. Mrs. Rose Youard, hatless and business-like in a plain black suit, opened the discussion on analgesia. She represented the Hastings and Elmsted (Kent) Women's Institute.

She said, "Ninety-one years ago Sir John Young Simpson first used chloroform for a midwifery case. One would imagine that by this time analgesia would be available to every woman, whether she is at home or in a hospital. That is not the case."

"Women in hospitals and nursing homes can have their worst pains alleviated. What stops the ordinary woman from having that blessing? Chiefly a lack of the various machines by which analgesia is given."

"Twenty years ago we had no radio. Ten years ago there were no televisions. Five years ago no television. There is no reason to suppose that the last stage of perfection has been reached in analgesia."

"My Institute don't propose to say how analgesia can be provided. They say it must be done."

With an amendment concerning safeguards, the resolution was passed with only one delegate objecting.

"I've had three children, one without analgesia," Mrs. Youard said to me afterwards. "That's how I know how important it is."

PAULETTE'S SECRET DASH TO CHAPLIN

Hollywood.

Paulette Goddard, to whom, it has often been reported, Charlie Chaplin was married in 1934, has just made a secret trip to Pebble Beach, Carmel, where Chaplin has recently been in seclusion.

She travelled in a closed car. The Chaplin secretariat had been warned to make no other appointments for the comedian at the time of the trip. Miss Goddard, it is said, sought discussions with Charlie, explaining that she intends to "get things settled one way or another."

For several months past an open breach has existed between Chaplin, remaining at Carmel, and Miss Goddard, alternating between an hotel at Beverly Hills and the Chaplin mansion.

An intimate friend of the comedian said: "Paulette has hinted at divorce, but gossips who hope that such proceedings would bring out the details of their secret wedding (hitherto closely guarded by both parties) should remember other cases in which secret Hollywood marriages have been ended by a Mexican divorce."

It is possible to secure a certain form of Mexican divorce without the parties making a personal appearance, and without

A letter she wrote and a picture she sent to Generalissimo Francisco Franco saved from the firing squad her aviator husband, Harold Dahl, imprisoned for life by Spanish Rebels. And now Mrs. Edith Rogers Dahl, pictured above as she arrived in London, hopes to obtain his freedom with funds raised through her singing to smart West End audiences.

STAGECOACH IN MUSEUM

Corvallis, Ore.

The only remaining coach of the Ben Holiday livery of transcontinental stagecoaches has been placed in the Horner museum at Oregon State College. The vehicle, built before 1860, figured in Mark Twain's "Roughing It," in which the humorist described a ride taken by Horace Greeley, pioneer New York editor.

making public disclosures as to where and when the marriage took place.

Both Charlie and Miss Goddard have always refused to discuss their private affairs, so if they wish, they can seek divorce and still preserve their great secret, as did Claudette Colbert, when she secured a postal divorce in Mexico from Norman Foster.

DYING RACES OF AUSTRALIA

Melbourne.

The establishment of a separate Government Department of Native Affairs and the absolute segregation of the remaining natives in Federal territories, are recommended by Dr. Donald Thomson, the Melbourne anthropologist, in a report to the Federal Parliament. Dr. Thomson was lent by the University of Melbourne to the Government to study conditions among aborigines in Arrerhney Land. He has been living among the aborigines for nearly five years.

Dr. Thomson believes that it is essential that the surviving native population should be safeguarded at the earliest possible moment, because delay, in view of the recent increase of undesirable associations, will seal their fate. Contact with civilisation with its concomitants of disease and, in many cases, vice, wrecks havoc among this "stone-age" people.

The total population of aborigines and half-castes in Australia is now about 80,000, exclusive of another 25,000 living in supervised camps. In 1788 the number was 300,000.

PRIESTS' FIGHT IN TEMPLE

Calcutta.

The famous Viswanath Temple at Benares has been the scene of a battle of fists between rival sections of the temple priests. They pommelled each other, to the astonishment of devotees in the building, and had to be separated by the police.

The fight was the result of a dispute about a successor to the chief priest, who died recently.

CHAMBER OF PRINCES

Differences have arisen among the members of the Reorganisation Committee of the Chamber of Princes which is meeting here to constitute a special committee of Princes and Ministers. Its composition is important as it will decide on the entry of the States into the Federation scheme.

The 36 smaller States are dissatisfied with the representation which it is proposed they should be given, as compared with the representation of the 22 larger States. Some of the States are also disinclined to accept Committee control.

CONTROL OF NATIVE POLICY

Cape Town.

Mr. G. Heaton Nicholls, M.P. for Zululand, who recently resigned his chairmanship of the Native Affairs Commission, after the appointment of Mr. H. Fagan as Minister of Native Affairs, has now given the reasons for his action.

And the portfolio gone to an older and more experienced Minister who had some knowledge of the past decade during which South African native policy had been fashioned. Mr. Nicholls says that he would have had no cause for protest. "But I am simply not prepared to plough the sand in future," he adds.

Mr. Nicholls says that he will continue faithfully to support the United party.

Public Health Secretary, Dr. E. H. Cluver, Director of Medical Services and senior Assistant Health Officer for the Union of South Africa, has been appointed Secretary for Public Health and Chief Health Officer in succession to Sir Edward Thornton, who is retiring.

SOCIAL CREDIT LOSES GROUND

Calgary.

With the defeat of 37 of the 39 Social Credit candidates in the provincial elections in Saskatchewan Liberals here see a new hope that redoubled efforts will be made to oust Mr. Aberhart, the Social Credit Prime Minister in Alberta.

It is believed that Mr. Aberhart's plan, dictated by the Social Credit Board, was to capture Saskatchewan, then force the collapse of the Manitoba Government, and, finally, from a Pacific-West bloc, push into eastern Canada, with the Dominion Premiership at stake.

Saskatchewan has smashed this plan and spells the collapse of the Social Credit movement in West Alberta, where the farmers are fast turning against it.

TRIBUNAL TO FIX DAIRY PRICES

Wellington.

Mr. Savage, the Prime Minister, announced that the Government intended to appoint a tribunal to fix guaranteed dairy produce prices.

A Supreme Court judge would preside, and the Government would have a representative on the tribunal. He would, however, be relieved of the responsibility of fixing prices.

The expected surplus of £500,000 on the dairy account would be distributed to farmers this year, Mr. Savage added.—Reuter.

FOOT ITCH

Athlete's Foot

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-20, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

BEWARE OF IT SPREADING

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

HERE'S HOW TO TREAT IT

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

ITCHING STOPS IMMEDIATELY

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief; especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

FRIGHTFUL RAID ON HANKOW KILLS MOTHERS AND BABES

Hankow, July 12.

The air raid alarm sounded at noon to-day, heralding
the first raid in the Wu-Han area since April 29.

From early indications, it is estimated that the casualties were 100 dead and 200 wounded. The worst damaged section was around the Hupeh Provincial Hospital, the maternity ward of which collapsed, killing many patients. Correspondents saw the surviving mothers distractedly rocking and wailing over their babies only some days old.

The Christian Alliance Mission
next door, flying the American flag, was missed by a few yards. The Chinese janitor's son was killed.
Over a block away three bombs flattened the hovels of the poor class, crushing many beneath the ruins.

United Press representatives saw the parents weeping over the body of their daughter, her head sticking from the wreckage and blood bubbling from her mouth.

There were no military objectives in the vicinity where the bombs fell.
Twenty bombs were aimed at Wuchang railway station. They missed the objective by 150 yards and houses in the vicinity were levelled and 30 civilians killed, principally children.

A mother was noticed sitting at the doorway of a badly shaken temple, coddling her wounded baby and surrounded by wailing relatives.
American in the Christian Alliance
Mission are Rev. and Mrs. Eric Ekvall, of Wheaton, Illinois.

Red cross workers turned out quickly and rendered efficient service. The crowds moved about in a curious frame of mind, without any feeling of panic, nor were there any signs of evacuation.

The Japanese used pattern bombing, dropping four and six bombs simultaneously and destroying the widest areas.

Over 30 youths receiving wartime military training, who took shelter at Snake Hill, in Wuchang, were killed.

There has been no report of loss of Japanese planes in the dog-fights.
Bodies still buried under the wreckage are estimated at over 100 dead and 200 wounded.—United Press.

OVER 100 DEAD

Hankow, July 12.
Excavations in the devastated area in the Wuchang district continued this evening. There are over 100 dead, and there is fear that scores more will be found under the wreckage.

Central News states that over 100 bombs were dropped from 34 planes, of which at least 12 were bombers.
The raiders met anti-aircraft fire which, though heavy, was ineffective because of the high altitude.

It is not known why Chinese planes did not fight, though it is presumed that they were continuing their activity on the Yangtze river.

American property involved in the raid included St. Hilda's School for girls under the American Missions, which displayed two American flags on top. It was struck by two bombs which destroyed a small house in the compound, where 250 refugees were quartered. None of them was hurt.

Miss Helen Gossline, of Baltimore, was the only American in Hankow present at the time of the bombing.
Other teachers there are Venetia Cox, of Winterville, New Connecticut, now in Kuling, and Olive Tomlin of Lexington, Massachusetts.

Six bombs encircled the Christian and Missionary Alliance Building, smashing all windows and killing two Chinese boys in the courtyard.

The Boone University, now called the central College of China, was narrowly missed.

Boone University Americans include Coral Clarke of New York, now at Kuling, Everard Miller, Jr., and his wife, of New York.

St. Joseph's Hospital, which was struck on April 29, was narrowly missed. The St. Joseph's sisters include Sister Mary L. Cahill of Mount St. Joseph, Ohio, Sister Hildegard Summer, of Mount St. Joseph, Ohio, Sister Mary Tracy of Mount St.
Joseph, Ohio, Sister Stella Linsch, of Cincinnati, and Sister Mary Hoekker of Cincinnati.

The Wuhan University was the objective of the air raid and several bombs were dropped in the campus near the East Lake.

Many houses in this neighbourhood were demolished.

A section of the rails near Wuchang east station was damaged, but the station was not hit.

Chinese communiques claim that a Japanese bomber was hit and set on fire. It is claimed that the plane was seen trailing a stream of vapour gas.

It is estimated that property loss amounted at least 1,000 houses.—
United Press.

yesterday says:
Demand for shares continued and although buyers raised their bids, sellers showed little or no inclination to trade. The market closed steady, and with sellers holding off, the volume of business transac-

MUSICIANS - PLAY ON HOP TO RIO

They thought it up for the movies five years ago—now it's really happening.

A dance band is "flying down to Rio" aboard a Clipper plane of Pan-American Airways, and accompaning the ten musicians is a dancing group of ten with their leader.

The 21 of them are travelling companions of Andre Kostelanetz, world famed conductor and his bride, Lily Pons, Metropolitan Opera star, who previously had reserved space on the same Clipper for their combined honeymoon and concert trip to Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires.

The dance band is Maximilian Bergere's which is to open at the Copacabana Casino in Rio de Janeiro.

Like Gene Raymond and his musicians in the movie "Flying Down to Rio," the Bergere musicians have their instruments with them—except for bass drum, "dog house" and piano. They will play aboard the Clipper with three saxophones, violin, three trumpets, two accordians and guitar.

THIS IS "PIRACY"

The attitude of the Japanese press in the delicate matter of the occupation of the Paracels Islands by French police would be amusing if it were not so deadly earnest. The Japanese do not often bluster. So when the influential Hochi Shimbun cries "Piracy" against France it is not a joking matter. Moreover, the Hochi Shimbun appears to suspect that Great Britain has encouraged France to seize the group whose ownership has for years been in dispute between France and China. But what is a little ludicrous is the Japanese claim to ownership of the Paracels at this late date, the discovery, it is said, having been made by a Japanese who has been carrying on an export business from the group for years. This is all very confusing; the more so since, to most observers it will appear that the ownership of the Paracels is scarcely a thing to quarrel seriously about.

As far as France is concerned, there really seems to be no good reason to doubt her sincerity when she says that police have been despatched simply to safeguard the staff of meteorological and other workers there, whose work is essential to the safeguarding of international navigation in these dangerous waters. It is possible that France had in mind when she decided to guard this staff the fate of the very useful wireless and weather station at Pratas Shoals, which was reported to have been dismantled by the Japanese following their occupation of that island last year. Subsequently other Far East weather stations have experienced much difficulty in plotting the course of typhoons, for Pratas was of invaluable assistance in this work. But whether or not France remembered the Pratas affair, and its consequences, it is hardly likely, if she intended to permanently occupy the Paracels, that she would do so with a handful of Annamite policemen.

Japan, of course, is interested in any island whence a penny

Personalities of Old Hongkong

JOHN WALTER HULME,
CHIEF JUSTICE

By T. PAUL GREGORY

A great man of Hongkong's past was the first Chief Justice—the Hon. John Walter Hulme. He was in certain respects a stern representative of the age; but in others, he was most genial and won for himself during his stay in the Colony a host of warm-hearted and loyal friends. However, his most outstanding characteristic was his spirit of rugged independence which often brought him into collision with that other individualist of the day—the Governor, Sir John Francis Davis.

The Hon. John Walter Hulme was born in England in the year 1800. Very little is known of his youth, save that he was admitted to the Bar of the Middle Temple when he was quite young and early in his career he gained a reputation throughout the country as a sound lawyer. Perhaps, much of his legal success was due to his associate, the famous Joseph Chitty, a barrister whose name is even yet a familiar one with members of the legal profession. Whilst Hulme collaborated in the compilation of a number of well-known law books which added immensely to his reputation. Largely on this account, and also, undoubtedly, to his success as a practicing barrister he was appointed to serve as Chief Justice of the Colony of Hongkong, with the specific task of creating an efficient system of legal administration and procedure from the old-fashioned military court which had given so much dissatisfaction.

Feud With The Governor

Judge Hulme arrived in Hongkong aboard H. M. S. Spitfire on May 7, 1844. With him as a fellow passenger on the voyage was Sir John Francis Davis, the first actual Governor of the Colony. The month following his arrival, he was appointed to serve on the newly created Legislative Council. From the very first, Judge Hulme did not appear to "hit it off" very well with Governor Davis, and the dislike which seemed to have been more or less mutual, soon broke out into an active feud. The trouble started over the case of a British merchant in Canton, a Mr. Charles Spencer Compton, who had been involved in some trouble in the foreign settlement at Shap-sam-hong. It seems that Compton had over-turned a hawk's stall on the "glorious Fourth" and had "beaten up" a Chinese official who had attempted to restrain him. Four days later, "feeling unduly exuberant" he further engaged in a fist encounter with some of the Chinese on the border of the concession, which had extremely serious repercussions, ending up with a riot, in which three Chinese were killed.

The British Consul at Canton, Mr. McGregor, wrote to Sir John Davis for instructions, and was informed that he should at once take action against Compton. As a result Compton was fined $200 for his part in the affair, but unfortunately, the legal aspects of the case became singularly twisted; for he was sentenced under one law and fined under another. The circumstances were adjudged peculiar, and Compton appealed to the Courts of Hongkong against the decision.

Governor's Indictment

The case was brought up before Chief Justice Hulme on November 26, 1846, and he quashed the sentence and the fine. Governor Davis was extremely annoyed and sought means to suspend the Judge. However, singularly enough, nothing was done

of revenue may come or where, in some future time, she can base warships. France and Britain are equally interested in Japan's intentions in this latter direction and already have reason to fear for the future security of their Far East sea lanes; not that they fear attack, but they are unwilling that any power should be in a position to interrupt their commerce, isolate Hongkong and Indo-China and Kwangchow, and build a base which would be within raiding distance of these possessions. So it is altogether likely that Britain and France will oppose Japan's claim in the Paracels.

Finally, bearing in mind the enterprise which Japan is prosecuting in China, it is really astonishing that the Hochi Shimbun can see piracy in anything so innocuous as the French action in the Paracels.

about it until nearly a year later, when the Governor went to the limits of citing Chief Justice Hulme to appear before the Executive Council to answer the following charges:

First—For having been intoxicated at a dinner party given by Admiral Sir Thomas Cochrane on board H.M.S. Agincourt in the latter part of 1845.

Second—For having been intoxicated at the house of Major-General D'Aguilar in July 1846.

Third—For being an habitual drunkard.

The Executive Council in addition to the Governor, was composed of the G. O. C., Major-General D'Aguilar, Mr. H. K. Johnston (Secretary to Sir John Davis in his capacity of Plenipotentiary), and Major Cairne. The G. O. C. was apparently an unwilling member of the examining body; for he vehemently protested against the whole proceedings, declaring that it was both shameful and disgusting to pillory a man who had been a guest at one of his parties.

In vain did Judge Hulme demand a public hearing of the case, and the affair created intense excitement in the Colony. Public opinion became outspoken and menacing in attitude. The residents believed that the gist of the matter was nothing more than an attempt to "railroad" the Chief Justice out of office. The public rallied manfully to his support and every one agreed that the examining day of hard drinking, Judge Hulme was never an imbibor to excess. They cited his appearances in Court and the customary clarity of his judgments which would be impossible in a man who was nothing more than as the Governor alleged a "nocturnal winebibber." About sixty witnesses were called both for the prosecution and the defence, and all except one—Major Cairne—testified that the Chief Justice had never been unduly intoxicated. The testimony of Major Cairne, however, was the deciding point with the Governor, and the Chief Justice was declared guilty on the first count—two years after it had occurred. In vain, did Major-General D'Aguilar and the leading residents protest; for the Governor's mind was made up, and he accordingly suspended Hulme from office on November 30, 1847.

Over-Night Hero

The unjust decision was received by the populace with the most marked feelings of disgust. The residents, not only of the Colony but also of Canton, hastened to present addresses to the Judge, who became over-night a hero. His determination to return at once to England in order to seek justice, made the remainder of his sojourn previous to embarking, almost a gala of entertainment. The suspended Judge was feted everywhere, and the Bar presented a gold snuff-box to him, sent a gold snuff-box to him, and the P. & O. Steamer Pekin, his send off was a regal one indeed. Great crowds thronged to Pedder's Wharf, and the Chinese community, too, attended in large numbers. Flags were in evidence everywhere and the Chinese set off salutes of fire crackers. A champagne tiffin was given to the Judge on board the ship, and in every respect, it was as a triumphant rather than suspended dignitary that he took his leave of Hongkong.

Less than six months later, however, he was back again. This time he returned as a fully-reinstated official, his case having been investigated by Lord Grey, Secretary of State for the Colonies. His arrival by the P. & O. Braganza on June 18, 1848 was hailed by the people as a "singular triumph of justice over the dictatorial methods of Governor Davis and his clique." Governor Davis, when he heard of "Glorious news" I have exclaimed: "Glorious news! I have delighted to hear of it." The Government Gazette duly announced the return in the following words:

"The Honourable Chief Justice Hulme, having returned to Hongkong, is by the direction of the Right Honourable Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, reinstated in office from this date inclusive."

By Order,
W. CAINE,
Colonial Secretary.

Sir John Davis apparently felt a great deal of chagrin at the unexpected upset of his attempt to "sack" the Chief Justice; for not long afterwards, he wrote Hongkong, asking to be allowed to resign. Judge Hulme in the meantime was making himself more popular than ever, and during the remaining years of his stay in the Colony was fortunate in being able to maintain the high opinion of the

"Let's take a stroll while they're making up our berths."

Taking The Sting Out
Of The Future

WE all know what it is to look forwardly ahead. As we lie awake in the "weeny sma' hours" the coming day stretches out before us like a desert with no oasis promising shade and refreshment to encourage us.

First of all, we cheer ourselves by deciding that as we are not likely to sleep for hours we shall not be eating little or no breakfast, getting into trouble with our superiors, becoming exasperated with our subordinates, and dragging our footsteps home again to a miserable evening, the prelude to another wretched night.

But perhaps you have something more definite to fear: it may be an interview for a post you are very anxious to obtain. You see yourself meeting your fellow applicants, becoming more and more convinced that your claims are nothing in comparison with theirs, then appearing before an unsympathetic committee, failing to do yourself justice and coming away, miserable and unsuccessful.

The scene unfolds itself before the inward eye with the relentlessness of a cinematograph film, and you gaze at it, experiencing that sense of paralysis which gives its characteristic horror to a nightmare.

Morbid Day-Dreaming

How different will be your emotional reactions when actually faced with the crisis! Nervous and lacking in confidence you may be, but even at its worst the nightmare quality will be absent from the experience and, whether you are appointed or not, you will rise to the situation and even enjoy it. Why should there be this difference between anticipation and realization?

There are two kinds of looking ahead. There is creative planning, which is focused upon activities which are the means to some end we wish to reach. This process is predominantly intellectual, and may be called "forward thought." And there is morbid day-dreaming, during which we are absorbed in the contemplation of what we imagine will be our emotional reaction to a situation.

general public. Not even his enemies, and he now proceeded to make many on account of his propensity for awarding harsh sentences in the Supreme Court, could say that he was not at heart a good man. Even Mr. Yorrick Jones Murrow, the founder of the Daily Press, who had been sentenced to six months in gaol and a fine of £100 for an alleged libel on Governor Bowring had a great deal of respect for Judge Hulme on account of his high moral principles. Murrow once said of him: "He was neither a bad man nor a corrupt judge." His only defect it seemed was over-severity in the question of sentences to prisoners, and in this, it was said, "he was severe to a degree, and as unjust as severe."

Perhaps the increasing mercilessness of the justice meted out by him from the Bench was due in part to his declining state of health; for eventually he felt that sixteen years in Hongkong was enough, and accordingly applied for sick leave. This was granted and on April 23, 1860, he left the Colony. His long tenure of service here was rewarded by the action of the Government in bestowing upon him an annual pension of £1,500, but he did not long live to enjoy it; for he died on March 1, 1861 at Brighton, aged 61 years.

Breaking Point

But then we are not meant to control the self of the future. There is a verse in the Bible which enshrines a fundamental psychological truth: "As thy days, so shall thy strength be." We cannot expect to be conscious of to-morrow's strength till to-morrow dawns. When it comes, bringing its difficulties and its opportunities, Nature has so organized our emotions, our thinking, our physiological endowment of nerve and heart and muscle all work in harmony and enable us to meet them. When, however, we try to use up the resources of the future in the present, we are imposing upon our systems a strain they were never meant to bear. They break down, and mental collapse and paralysis follow.

But why should we act so? as to bring about such dire results? Let us exercise human forethought creatively, not morbidly, and when we have decided what are the things of to-morrow leave them to the morrow, their rightful and efficient guardian.

NO SUCH PERSON AS "THE NORMAL MAN"

Crime Clinic Doctors Report Inquiry Result

Investigators of the psychological treatment of criminals have come to these conclusions:

The more human behaviour is studied the more difficult it becomes to determine normality, and the more probable does it seem that there is no such person as a "normal man";

The task of the investigators, results of whose work will be revealed to the Prison Commissioners before long, has been to select those who might benefit from mental treatment, and to discover how many patients have in fact benefited.

Information gained during the past four years at a special clinic at Wormwood Scrubs Prison is being reviewed by Dr. W. Norwood East, until recently Medical Commissioner, and Dr. W. H. de B. Hubert, psycho-therapist for the Commissioners. The work has been purely experimental, and so far only a proportion of prisoners who might derive benefit from treatment have been selected for it.

Generally they have youths and men under 40 years of age. Prisoners suffering from neurasthenia, hysteria and similar mental illnesses have been chosen as well as adolescents of good intelligence who appeared to be developing along anti-social lines for some unknown reason.

THE MALINGERERS

The doctors' difficulties have been increased by malingerers eager to secure the comforts which accompany clinical treatment.

It is felt that in certain cases of adolescents it is necessary for the offender to be helped by an understanding mentor or doctor, so that he can view his problems in their proper perspective.

Difficulties of selecting prisoners for treatment are illustrated by the fact that patients may be suffering from one or more of over 40 mental "complaints."

It is understood that the Home Secretary and the Prison Commissioners have shown increasing interest in this work, which is being continued pending the completion of the report.

RICH MAN'S SON WEDS SERVANT

Newenden (Kent).

A MILLIONAIRE'S son married a girl from the servant's hall of his mother's mansion home here. At the altar in St. Peter's Church, stood Mr. James Henry Gunther, 24-year-old son of the late Mr. C. E. Gunther, the Argentine canned food magnate, and Miss Marjorie Trill, an 18-year-old housemaid.

Marjorie drove to the church in a hired car with her father, a gardener. She wore white satin and carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley. Her father wore his Sunday suit of grey homespun.

James arrived in his own high-powered car, driven by one of his mother's chauffeurs.

His mother, wearing a flowered silk dress and cart-wheel hat, sat by his side. She is the owner of Tongswood, a 50-roomed house near Hawkhurst, where 20 indoor servants are employed and 16 men work on the estate.

Bride and bridegroom first met two years ago, when Marjorie went to work at the big house straight from school. It was love at first sight. Marjorie has been taking lessons on how to run a huge home from her mother-in-law. She has been taught how to engage servants.

Headmaster Blames Sport And Speed

Brighton.

WHAT he described as "potted knowledge" and "knowledge under compulsion" were criticised here by Mr. J. Jamison, headmaster of North Hammersmith mixed schools, at the national conference on commercial education.

The average modern boys and girls of from fourteen to seventeen, he said, lived "in an atmosphere of constant mental tickling—wireless, cinema, sport, speed, raucous shouting crowds—an environment encouraging mass cut-and-dried opinions."

Teachers, he went on, had to cast about for a new method of approach with which to appeal, and a new medium upon which to build, in order to combat the "instinctive barriers" which youth set up to much of what education had to offer them. The examination "grind" was the easiest way for all teachers; that was why it would die hard. But teachers ought not to boast about their so-called successes in that line.

He had come to the conclusion that much of what was done in schools under domination or compulsion of personal influence left little permanent impression.

One could see, for example, little connection between literature as imposed in school and what the general run of pupils read after they left school.

"We see tidy school rooms and tidy school playgrounds, but masses of litter everywhere when our pupils become adults," said Mr. Jamison.

"Hear moderately correct speech in school, with a speech outside school so careless and lazy as to be almost another language."

In solitary confinement in Los Angeles jail is Mrs. Anna Laura Burnett, above, widow of an Oregon Indian multimillionaire. Mrs. Burnett, whom jail keepers found "unco-operative," was cited for contempt after ignoring court orders in legal wrangling over disposition of her late husband's estate.

Blind, He Golfs, Swims, Boxes

(By James Curtis)

Irish pluck and determination made it possible for Captain Gerald Lowry to be playing golf at Hythe to-day. Blinded by a German sniper's bullet through his temples in 1914, Captain Lowry boxes, rides, yachts, skis, golfs, beagles, and plays bridge.

Last year he sailed his own boat at Burnham-on-Crouch, winning both the handicap for the season and Burnham week.

This year pressure of work will prevent him from entering, since he is a member of the Marylebone Borough Council, as well as being one of England's best-known osteopaths.

Two nights a week poor people from all over London come to him to be treated free at his West End consulting-rooms.

Bronzed and healthy, Captain Lowry told me that he had run seven miles in Regent's Park that morning.

HIS DAILY SWIM

"I had a go at boxing in the gym, the other morning," he said, "and found that I was getting out of condition. That isn't good enough. After all, I'm only 49."

He likes a daily swim, too, though he has given up championship work—he won the Bath Club Cup twice—and he holds the silver and bronze medals for life-saving.

"Golf is the best game for the sightless," he said. "It helps our sense of visualisation."

"I put without any help other than the caddy giving me the general direction of the hole."

He never realised his gifts until he lost his sight.

BIG INCREASE IN LONDON CRIME IN 1937

Metropolitan Police Chief Defines Causes

An increase of more than 8,000 indictable crimes in the London area during 1937 is disclosed by Sir Philip Gamm, Metropolitan Police Commissioner, in his annual report.

Contributory causes of this increase are given as:—

Easy access to houses on modern building estates; and

The need for drafting large reinforcements of police to certain areas to deal with political demonstrations, thereby denuding other areas.

Crimes totalled 92,102, compared with 83,777 in 1936. The number of cases in which proceedings were taken was 20,202, an increase of 1,808.

The total of 92,102 is divided as follows:

Preventable crimes "which come or may come within the range of police supervision," 38,705, against 35,787;

Detectable crimes "which the police can do little or nothing to prevent," 53,487, against 47,990.

CARELESS OWNERS

"A rise in the number of indictable offences," writes Sir Philip, "would seem to indicate either a lowering of the standard of honesty or an increased general carelessness in the protection of property, or more probably both combined."

"As has been often said, opportunity produces crime. Houses and flats with doors that can be pushed open or left with windows unfastened or easily unfastenable, unlocked cars with suitcases and rugs in them, unchained bicycles leaning against the wall, all these make things easy for the criminal."

"There seems to be some justification for the conclusion that the acquisitive instinct is becoming stronger than the urge to honesty. Statistics of juvenile crime appear to support this conclusion, as the percentage of arrests of persons up to 20 years of age shows a progressive increase."

HOUSEBREAKING

Housebreaking figures show that 50 per cent. of the total occurred in six of the 20 police divisions. Broadly, they cover the areas in which housing estates are being laid out most rapidly, and to which communications by road and rail are most highly developed.

"Easy communications tend to facilitate housebreaking in these districts by other than local thieves," states the report.

The report notes that high proportion of shopbreaking and housebreaking is the work of local juveniles. In one typical division 80 per cent. of the arrests for housebreaking were of people under 10, and 60 per cent. under 20. For shopbreaking the percentages were even higher.

"Some experienced police officers," remarks Sir Philip, "are inclined to attribute the increase of crime among the young to the removal of many of the unpleasant consequences which previously followed detection. He adds that perhaps the most fertile cause is the lack of employment."

MOLLISON'S AIR LICENCE

An Air Ministry official commenting on Mr. Jim Mollison's stunt flying recently at Le Touquet, said: "No communications have yet reached us from the French authorities."

"But if a serious breach of the air regulations is alleged against Mr. Mollison, the Air Ministry would, of course, look into the matter."

"The British flying licence is issued by the Royal Aero Club, which is in close touch with the Air Ministry, and as it is valid internationally, contravention of flying rules in any part of the world might jeopardise the future of a licence."

Mr. Mollison achieved prominence in 1931, when he made the first flight from Australia to England in 8 days 22 hours. In 1932 he made a record flight from England to the Cape in 4 days 17 hours, east-to-west across the Atlantic the same year, and in 1933 west-to-east in 13½ hours.

In July 1933 Mr. Mollison and his wife became the first married couple to fly the Atlantic. They set off from Pendine Sands and crashed at Bridgeport, Connecticut, while attempting to break the long-distance record.

IT'S ALL 'OLLERING

The Bishop of Southwell (Dr. H. Mosley) told this story to the Conference of the National Association of Head Teachers, at Nottingham:

"When I was Rector of Poplar I was called to the bedside of an old costermonger who was very ill. His wife met me at the door and took me inside to see the old man."

"She said to me, 'The trouble is that 'e 'as lost 'is 'oller. Y'see, 'is trade is like yours—'it's all 'ollerin'."

LEADING COUNTIES WIN CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES

ESSEX BATSMAN MISSES A GREAT HONOUR

London, July 12. Yorkshire, Lancashire, Middlesex, Gloucestershire and Sussex won their matches in the latest County Cricket Championship programme, while Glamorgan took points on first innings from Northants.

Several fine bowling performances were recorded. R. Sinfeld, the Test bowler, took 14 wickets in all for Gloucester against Worcester at a cost of 110 runs, and Howarth sent back 13 Gloucester batsmen in the course of two innings for 133 runs.

J. O'Connor, the Essex batsman, had extremely bad luck in not scoring a century in each innings against Sussex. In the first knock, he was only four short of the mark, but in the second he hit up 162. His fine batting could not prevent his side from being beaten by five wickets, however.

DERBYSHIRE v. YORKSHIRE
At Chesterfield Yorkshire defeated Derbyshire by 163 runs.

Yorkshire were dismissed for 108 in their first innings as the result of fine bowling by George Pope who took six wickets for 37 runs. Derbyshire faced even worse, however, when they went in to bat, being all out for 158.

In their second innings, Yorkshire declared at 210 for seven wickets, but Derbyshire were skittled out for 87.

LEICESTER v. LANCASHIRE
In L. G. Berry's Benefit Match at Leicester, Lancashire defeated Leicestershire by an innings and five runs.

Leicester scored 191 and 109 (Pollard 5 for 57), while Lancashire's

NOTTS v. MIDDLESEX

At Nottingham, Middlesex defeated Notts by nine wickets.

Middlesex declared their first innings at 394 for nine wickets, Hart hitting up 105 and Heane taking six wickets for 98 runs.

Notts replied with 205 and 230, and Middlesex had no difficulty in making 43 for one wicket.

GLAMORGAN v. NORTHANTS

At Pontypriid, Glamorgan took points on first innings from Northamptonshire.

Glamorgan totalled 299 for seven wickets declared. In reply Northants were first dismissed for 100, J. C. Clay taking seven wickets for 49 runs. In the follow-on, Northants had made 79 for seven wickets when stumps were drawn.

WORCESTER v. GLOUCESTER

At Stourbridge Gloucestershire defeated Worcestershire by 34 runs.

Gloucester made 237 (Howarth 7 for 85) and 100 (Howarth 5 for 48), while Worcester scored 113 (Sinfeld 6 for 45) and 106 (Sinfeld 8 for 65).

SUSSEX v. ESSEX

At Hove, Sussex defeated Essex by five wickets.

Essex made 188 in their first innings, of which O'Connor made 90, and 245 in the second, O'Connor this time scoring 152.

Kowloon C. C. Conclude Programme Beat U.S.R.C. In Tennis League

Kowloon Cricket Club concluded their "A" Division tennis league programme for the season yesterday with an impressive win of 7-2 against the U.S.R.C. on the latter's courts.

Most surprising feature of the match was the astonishing reversal of form by L. Goldman and G. E. H. Divett for the losers. Against Chinese Recreation Club recently they gave a brilliant display. Yesterday neither approached anything like ordinary form, and after losing easily in the first set the Fincher brothers, trailed love-five against Guest and Gray, before losing the set at 3-6.

The home team was best served by D. C. Misra and Newham, who won their opening set and took Guest and Gray to 12 games before losing. Misra was in exceptionally good form, serving powerfully and driving with telling effect on the forehand. Newham produced some nice shot, but was unsteady on the volley and overhead.

J. Smalley played stylish tennis, but was extremely erratic, and Beadnell never settled down.

The visitors all played well. The Fincher brothers were never serious, but when the rubber, were lengthened they were fully capable of putting in the winning shot.

FINE SERVING

E. F. Fincher's serving was delightful to watch, and the brothers played as well together in this match as at any time during the current season.

The same can be said about Guest and Gray. Guest was beautifully steady from the baseline and mixed lengthy drives with ideal lob in judicious fashion. Gray preferred the forecourt, but was not always dependable from this position, and scored better with his forehand drive.

Blum, brought in for Burnett who is on holiday, gave a creditable account of himself in partnership with Crawford, and the pair did well to snatch one set.

Detailed scores were:

L. Goldman and G. E. H. Divett (U.S.R.C.) lost to E. C. Fincher and E. F. Fincher 2-6; lost to A. E. P. Guest and S. A. Gray 3-6; beat A. Crawford and E. Blum 6-2.

R. Newham and D. C. Misra (U.S.R.C.) lost to Fincher and Fincher 1-6; lost to Guest and Gray 5-7; beat Crawford and Blum 6-4.

J. Smalley and C. Beadnell (U.S.R.C.) lost to Fincher and Fincher 0-6; lost to Guest and Gray 2-6; lost to Crawford and Blum 3-6.

RECREIO v. H.K.C.C.

Although without H. Gonsalves and Barros, Club de Recreio "A" Division team managed to win their last match of the season against the Cricket Club yesterday by the odd set. The match was played at King's Park, and the home side introduced the side "B" Division players into the side—J. J. Remedios and M. A. Oliveira.

The detailed scores were:

A. V. Remedios and A. V. Gonsalves (Recreio) lost to H. Owen-Hughes and G. W. Sewell 2-6; beat T. A. Pearce and A. Sander 0-2; beat Dow and G. Bidwell 6-1.

F. J. Remedios and J. J. Remedios (Recreio) beat Owen-Hughes and Sewell 6-2; lost to Pearce and Sander 4-6; beat Dow and Bidwell 6-1.

M. A. Oliveira and J. Barreto

(Recreio) lost to Owen-Hughes and Sewell 4-6; lost to Pearce and Sander 5-7; beat Dow and Bidwell 6-4.

"C" DIVISION MATCH

KOWLOON TONG BEAT CLUB DE RECREIO

In an important "C" Division league match, which is bound to have a bearing on the championship, Kowloon Tong yesterday defeated Club de Recreio by five sets to four.

Soccer Players To Be Numbered

London, June 30. It was decided at the summer meeting of the Football Association at Scarborough that the players, other than the goalkeeper, shall be numbered in the F.A. Cup final and semi-finals, international matches, international trials, and the F.A. charity shield match. The match between England and the Rest of Europe in connection with the 75th anniversary celebrations of the F.A. will be played on the Arsenal ground on Oct. 26. The Rest of Europe team will be selected by the F.I.F.A.

Bowls

NARROW VICTORIES REGISTERED

Two Players Lose By One Shot

(By "Abe")

Further progress was made in the Lawn Bowls singles championship yesterday when four more matches in the first round were played.

Two interesting ties were decided on the Hongkong F.C. green. S. M. White beating F. Nolan by 21-17 and W. J. Howard beating D. M. Khan by 21-20.

Although the game between Howard and Khan was perhaps the more exciting of the two because of its close finish, the one between White and Nolan undoubtedly produced the better standard of play.

Indeed White and Nolan had some very fine heads in which the woods were all clustered round the Jack. Nolan kept ahead for most of the way, but while leading 10-15 he dropped a ball on the 20th head, which swung the game round to White's favour. After conceding a single, White finished the match with a brace on the 22nd head.

Fortunes fluctuated from one side to the other in the encounter between Howard and Khan. It was Howard who led for the majority of the match, but he slipped up badly in the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th heads when he allowed his opponent to score seven shots to force ahead by 14-12. When Khan led 17-14 and followed up with a brace and a single to lead 20-16 on the 24th head, he seemed to have the match "in the bag" but on the very next head he sent down four wide woods, and taking advantage of this Howard chalked up a three to reduce the arrears. A single on the 26th end put Howard on level terms, and another single on the 27th saw him through.

McKELVIE BEATEN
On the Kowloon C.C. green, J. McKelvie failed to maintain his early form against E. V. Y. Ricardo, and was beaten by 21-14. McKelvie led 7-0 at the end of the first three ends, but Ribeiro improved to such good purpose that he allowed his opponent to score only on three other heads out of the 21 played.

Altogether McKelvie scored on six heads, but he had four threes and two singles.

A ding-dong game was played between J. E. Henson and A. R. Minu. The scores were fairly even all the way. The two were tied at 18-18; then Henson led 20-18; Minu drew level, and in the 28th head Henson took a single to enter the next round.

Open Pairs Semi-Finals For To-Day

The semi-finals of the Open Pairs championship will be played to-day at 4.30 p.m. on the Civil Service C.C. green.

The two matches are as follows: J. Howell and R. G. Craig v. G. N. Mitchell and J. O. Brown.

C. M. Silva and F. X. Soares v. A. Bakar and A. K. Minu.

Both matches promise to be more than ordinarily as the pairs seem to be very well-matched. Their win over the Omar brothers, holders of the title, has revealed Howell and Craig to be a pair to be seriously reckoned with, but their opponents to-day, Mitchell and Brown, are also playing extremely well at the moment.

C. M. Silva and F. X. Soares were not highly thought of even by their club-mates when the competition commenced, but on their heels are now hanging the accolades of several fancied pairs. Silva is a very steady lead, and Soares is painstaking in everything he does.

A. K. Minu will be out to avenge the defeat of his younger brother who, with J. Hoosen, was beaten by Silva and Soares. Bakar will be a good match for Silva, and much will depend on Minu and Soares on the outcome of this encounter.

AMATEURS KICK A FOOTBALL 40,000 MILES ROUND WORLD

They Lost only 8 Games in 95

By Tangloes

London, June 6.

Eight months after setting out on a 40,000-miles world tour, during which they played football in the jungles of India and amid Canadian snows—and lost only 8 of their 95 matches—the Islington Corinthians arrived back in London yesterday.

Miss Alice ("Killer") Marble is seen here congratulating Miss Kay Stammers at the end of their Wrightman Cup encounter in which the English girl surprisingly defeated the American champion in the opening singles. The United States easily retained the trophy.

FIVE-DAY TESTS WILL COME SOON

May Be Possible For 1942

London, July 13. The second Test match has begun.

Most followers of the game have already made up their minds that unless the weather plays pranks with the wicket it will result, as did the previous match at Nottingham, in high scoring and a draw. In fact, having regard to the vagaries of cricket, it is surprising the number of people who are convinced that the present series will be decided on the first match, which is to be played to a finish.

Mr. R. E. S. Wyatt, of Warwickshire, who would almost certainly have been among England's selected cricketer-journalists, has already put forward the suggestion that when the Australians visit us in 1942 Test

Budge Surprisingly Beaten At Belgrade

Belgrade, July 12. Donald Budge, present Wimbledon champion and holder of nearly all the major tennis titles in the world, was surprisingly defeated to-day in an exhibition match by Kukuljevic, the young Czecho-Slovak Davis Cup player.

Budge was beaten by 15-13, 7-5.—Reuter.

matches should be of five days duration.

Lord Hawke, the "Grand Old Man of Cricket," who is the treasurer and a trustee of the M.C.C., governing body of the game, said:

"I think it quite likely that the five-days game will be introduced for the next series of Test matches. Anyhow, I expect it will come eventually."

Then on the way home came Los Angeles, Hollywood, Frisco and Niagara Falls.

STAR'S NIGHT CLUB

At Hollywood Heather Angel was the official hostess, and the players were also entertained by Victor Mac-laglen at his own night club.

"You have kicked the football round the world, and put British sport on the map throughout the world," said Mr. W. P. Pickford, president of the Football Association, welcoming the players when their ship docked at Southampton.

Here is the record of a wonderful tour:

Games played 95; won 65; lost 8.

Goals for 237. Against 79.

In India the players—amateurs all—set up a record by playing 32 games in 48 days, travelling long distances by night to keep to schedule.

They were guests of Indian princes, and after playing in Alexandria were presented to King Farouk.

Everywhere they found the true spirit of sportsmanship—and excellent playing pitches. The turf in Malaya was exceptionally good.

IN BARE FEET

In the Punjab they opposed Sikhs with long beards and uncut hair, who kicked in bare feet. Within four miles of the Afghan frontier at Fort Landi Kotai, they played where 5,000 troops live behind barbed wire—in a space that includes soccer and hockey grounds.

At Hazirabad the Rajah's pet leopard growled fiercely at the team mascot—a stuffed woolly lion carried on the field before every match. It vanished at Singapore. Members of the party have been told since that it is now worshipped by superstitious Malayan "villagers."

A Saigon man h referee could not speak a word of English, and the Tunbridge Wells Rangers full-back, H. Martin, had to rush up the field to interpret decisions spoken in French.

SHADOW OF WAR

War shadows intruded more than once on the tour.

On the way from Hongkong to Macao, surrounded by Chinese junk, Japanese seaplanes swooped down on the steamer, but the pilots saw the bridge and no bombs were dropped.

In the little spare time their strenuous programme permitted the travellers saw the Alps, Pompeii, Naples, the Pyramids, Taj Mahal, tombs of the Mogul Emperors, and Singapore, where the tour ended.

Then on the way home came Los Angeles, Hollywood, Frisco and Niagara Falls.

STAR'S NIGHT CLUB

At Hollywood Heather Angel was the official hostess, and the players were also entertained by Victor Mac-laglen at his own night club.

The Islington Corinthians are an affiliation of well-known amateur Association players who formerly competed in the London Mid-Week League. Islington Rotarians organised this tour.

The 18 players—17 for the last two months—included two schoolmasters, a County cricketer, a garage keeper, clerks and other black-coated workers. All but three are Londoners.

The team's manager, Mr. Tom Smith, paid striking tribute to "the boys" when they parted at the end of the tour. They had been true ambassadors of Britain, he said. "We have not left a single enemy behind us."

COOPER LOSES TO "UNKNOWN"

Surprise Results In American P. G. A. Golf

Shawnee-on-Delaware, July 12. The biggest surprise in the first round of the American Professional Golf Association's tournament, played to-day, was the defeat of Harry Cooper, one of the most consistent golfers in the world.

Cooper was beaten by an "unknown," Felix Serna, who won by four and three.

Many prominent American Ryder Cup golfers were successful, however. Densmore Shreve beat Clyde Umana three and two; Paul Runyan beat Levi Lynch five and four; Gene Sarazen beat Leo Walper four and three; Ralph Guldahl beat John Maluic four and two; McSpaden beat Sam Parks, Jr., three and two; Ed Dudley beat Farrell three and two; Frank Moore, who with two rounds of 60, headed the list of qualifiers, beat Ernie Ball at the nineteenth.

SECOND ROUND

In the second round, Shute beat John Thoren, of Brookline, Mass., seven and six; Horton Smith beat Diegel four and three; Runyan beat Tony Manero three and two; Billy Burke beat Moore at the 18th; Ray Mangrum beat McSpaden at the 20th; Harry Bassler beat Dudley four and three; and Metz beat Guldahl one up.—Reuter.

New P. W. D. Club-House Opened

Recreation Centre At Causeway Bay

"Although there is a membership of more than 250, it is not good enough, and I would ask you all to give the Club every possible support by joining it." This was a remark made by the Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, Director of Public Works, at the official opening of the Public Works Recreation Club's club-house at Causeway Bay yesterday.

Gay coloured hunting decorated the approach to the club-house, and there were a few hundred people present to witness the official opening by Mrs. R. M. Henderson.

Addressing those present, Mr. A. G. W. Tickle, Assistant Director of Public Works said:

Although the Public Works Recreation Club has been in existence for more than two years, yet to many who are present to-day it may be of interest to hear of its short history and progress to date. Its origin dates from 1936, when a few officers in the Waterworks Sub-Department formed the Waterworks Recreation Club, which succeeded in providing some outdoor recreation for officers who, for various reasons, were unable to join other clubs. That this little Club served a useful purpose became apparent to the Committee when applications for membership were received from other Sub-Departments of the Public Works Department.

Within four months of the inception of the Waterworks Club a general meeting of representatives of all Sub-Departments passed a resolution forming the Public Works Recreation Club, which has for its principal object "the promotion of sports and recreation among all officers of the Public Works Department."

As the then Acting Director of Public Works, I was happy to accept the invitation to become a Patron of the Club. Mr. P. D. Wilson, the President of the Club, is now on leave, and, metaphorically, I am standing in his shoes addressing you now. He will be glad to know that he is remembered by us to-day.

The Vice-Presidents are Messrs. A. B. Purves, W. G. Fitz-Gibbon and J. A. Dundell, all of whom have given very willingly their helpful services. The General Committee consists of a Chairman, Secretary and Treasurer, and a representative from each of the Sub-Departments. The membership now exceeds two hundred and fifty.

Handicaps Overcome
The lack of premises and playing fields has been a handicap to the Committee which has prevented their arranging any events in the field of sports. This handicap has now been overcome.

A special word of praise is due to those Officers of the Committee who have worked so hard to raise funds by organising numerous social functions, which I think most of us here have enjoyed. I refer to the bathing picnics, the Chinese theatrical performance, the swimming galas, and the more recent supper cabaret dance. In this connection it is not difficult to single out for special praise the untiring efforts of our Hon. Secretary, Mr. D. W. Luke.

There have been others engaged on Sub-committee work whose names are too numerous to be mentioned, but to whom nevertheless we accord our hearty congratulations for their efforts which have culminated in this happy ceremony.

I must also take this opportunity to express our appreciation to Mr. Gifford Hull, who is temporarily absent from the Colony, for his generous support and great kindness in presenting numerous small items for the construction of this club-house, and for the billiard table and accessories which will help to entertain the members indoors. I will ask you to show in the usual way a hearty expression of our thanks to Mr. Gifford Hull.

The Club has already been encouraged by the presentation of a number of trophies. Hon. Mr. R. H. Henderson is presenting a trophy for football; a Champion Cup has been given by Mr. Wilson; Mr. Newhouse, who retired last year from the post of Assistant Director of Public Works, has presented a trophy for tennis; the Committee has been kind enough to accept from me a shield for swimming, and the Sutton Shield, which

AMERICAN BALLOT ON GAMES

New York, July 11.
The American Olympic Committee is polling the athletes to determine (1) whether they are in favour of American participation in the Tokyo Games of 1940, (2) whether they are planning to enter the Olympic trials, (3) whether they will be able to make the trip in the event of their being in the team, and (4) the attitude of the students who are compelled to miss more than a month during the Autumn semester due to the changed date.—United Press.

Judges Ages Up In Canada

Ottawa, Ont.
The Canadian Bar Association has presented a resolution to the Department of Justice recommending automatic retirement with full salary for Canadian judges at 75.

Is for bowls, has helped to sustain departmental interest in that game. Before requesting Mrs. Henderson to perform the ceremony of unlocking the door, I may mention that for the time being the club-house is only partially furnished, and it is hoped that Officers who can will contribute a small donation to the furniture and games gear fund. Remember that there is much to provide for. Cricket, football, tennis, lawn bowls, and some other sports will be available for members, and I think that the endeavours of the Committee who up to now have done so much for the Club are deserving of your further support.

I will now call upon Mr. Chan Tsoi, the Chairman of the Committee, who has held that office from the inception of the Club, to hand to Mrs. Henderson the silver key formally to open the club-house.

Formal Ceremony

The key was then presented to Mrs. Henderson, who opened the door and declared the club-house open.

Before those present entered to inspect the premises, Mr. Henderson expressed the thanks of Mrs. Henderson and himself for being invited to the opening, and for the beautiful souvenir key presented to Mrs. Henderson.

"I feel that all members of the Department should give this Club their wholehearted support," said Mr. Henderson, "the funds of the Club at the moment are not sufficient to provide all the furniture that is required, and for the games gear. Mr. Tickle has said that there are about 250 members, and I say that is not enough. It is very good indeed, but it is not good enough, and I would ask you all to give the Club every possible support by joining it. The Club is not a rich one, and I would ask the members to come forward and subscribe to the funds of the Club."

After an inspection of the club-house had been made, tea was served in the Club's grounds. After an inspection of the club-house had been made, tea was served in the Club's grounds.

STOP PRESS NEWS

London register?—I don't know. Will you agree with me that, for the past 20 years, you have not been on the London register?

On being further pressed on this point, witness said he could not agree or disagree that a friend had told him that he was not on the London register some time ago.

CLAIMS TO BE SPECIALIST

Continuing cross-examination, Mr. Whyatt asked: Are you putting yourself forward in this case as a specialist in mental diseases?—Yes.

Your special subject in medicine is neurology?—Yes; and mental diseases.

Neurology principally?—Yes. Yesterday, you told me that when you were at Peiping you were Acting Director of the Department of Neurology?—Yes, it used to be called that. We used to have mental diseases in the Department.

Would you agree with me that to be a specialist in neurology is a different thing to being a specialist in mental diseases?—Yes.

CONSIDERS PRISONER EPILEPTIC

During the greater part of your professional career, you have specialised in neurology?—I have dealt with just as many others as neurology cases.

When you came to Court yesterday you were prepared to state that, in your opinion, prisoner was an epileptic and, in arriving at that opinion, you had proceeded on the assumption that he had no recollection of his attack on Mrs. Challinor?—I said yesterday that the behaviour of the accused, his way of attack, and later his attack on the servants, and his acts, were at that time equivalent to epilepsy.

Mr. Whyatt repeated his question and witness replied: That would be implied.

ATTACKS THEORY

I don't want any implications. You did proceed on that assumption? I don't think so.

Mr. Whyatt: Until yesterday evening had you not formed the opinion that prisoner could not have remembered what happened that night?—Yes.

Mr. Whyatt: And that being your view, that was an important factor in assisting you in arriving at the opinion that he was an epileptic?—Yes.

You realise that if the answers accused gave me in cross-examination that he recollected the attack and knew he was doing wrong in stabbing Mrs. Challinor, if those answers are true your theory goes by the board?—Not necessarily.

Are you asking My Lord and the Jury to believe that a man could attack a woman in a state of epileptic equivalent and know at the time that he was doing wrong?—

Witness did not reply to the question.

Mr. Whyatt: Is that a difficult question?—From a psychological point of view, it is.

Mr. Whyatt: I am not talking of that, but of mental diseases, psychiatry.

The original question was repeated to witness, who agreed that

Japanese Warships Off Paracels

The vernacular paper Yut Wah Pao reports that a Japanese aircraft carrier, which was known to be formerly off Namoa Island, has been sighted to the east of Tungsha Island, which is one of the Paracel group.

She is said to be escorted by 5 Japanese destroyers.

A total of 10 Japanese naval units, together with 2 Japanese submarines are also reported in the vicinity.

The vernacular report also states that a high French naval official sailed from Annam to the Paracels a few days ago. He returned to Kwongchow on July 11 and a conference was then held between French naval, military and civil authorities to consider action in case of emergency.

The Yut Wah Pao further says that "foreign sources" report that seven French transports are being held in readiness at Hanoi to transport soldiers to Kwongchow in the event of an invasion.—United Press.

MYSTERY SHIP OFF H.K.

Reports of a vessel behaving in an unusual fashion, apparently inside Hongkong waters, are causing inquiries to be made by the authorities. A number of persons observed an unknown vessel, of large dimensions, her funnel well aft, and with the lines of a tanker, lying about a mile south of Cheung Chau early this morning. Further to sea was another vessel which appeared to be a destroyer.

The first ship was anchored, it seemed, and after lying in West Lamma Channel for about an hour, proceeded slowly west and rounded the southernmost point of Lantau Island, apparently proceeding for Tai O Bay. There, however, she has not been reported. The vessel has vanished.

It is considered possible that she may have been carrying fuel for Japanese warships on patrol off the Pearl River mouth.

HEAVY FIGHTING ALONG YANGTSE

Hankow, July 13. Heavy fighting is progressing on the south bank of the Yangtse between Kiukiang and Tchangshan according to Chinese reports.

A Chinese communiqué states that the Japanese penetrated the Chinese lines in the vicinity of Hsiangshun on Monday. Chinese counter-attacks on the following morning inflicted 400 casualties on the Japanese, who also lost 2 heavy machine-guns, 3 light machine-guns and over a hundred rifles.

Fighting is also continuing between Hukow and Pingsh.

Chinese sources assert that eight Japanese warships attempting to steam up-stream from Hukow and two Japanese motor launches attempting to enter Lake Poyang on Monday steamed away when they were engaged by the Chinese shore batteries.

Japanese aircraft bombed Lion Hill, west of Hukow, on Monday.

With the arrival of reinforcements at Kiukiang, comprising crack Cantonese troops under the command of General Li Han-wen, Chinese circles are confident that the Japanese attempt to advance westward along the south bank of the Yangtse will meet with stiff opposition.—Reuter.

FLOOD SPREADS IN HONAN

Peiping, July 12. A new small break in the dykes of the Yellow River has made its appearance east of Kaitung, and the new flood waters are threatening the capital of Honan Province.

Flood-waters have now reached two to two and a half miles south-west of Lanfeng and are flowing in a southwesterly direction.

The flood stream is now 125 miles wide, but not very deep.—United Press.

Woman Killed In Nathan Rd.

Hurled from her rickshaw when a No. 9 motor bus collided with the vehicle at half-past eight this morning, a Chinese woman was killed instantly, while the rickshaw was demolished.

The accident occurred outside of the Po Hing Theatre, Nathan Road. The bus was travelling towards Jordan Road, and was about to pull into the kerb to stop.

The rickshaw passenger was thrown underneath the bus, and the rickshaw was splintered. One wheel was wrenched off and the rest of the framework broken and buckled.

Miraculously, the rickshaw puller was unhurt, and before onlookers had recovered from the shock of the collision, he had run away. Police are now searching for him.

An epileptic equivalent would not know that he was doing wrong.

Mr. Whyatt: If prisoner's answer that he knew what he was doing is true, your theory goes by the board?—If the statement he made yesterday was made in a clear mind it could have been true.

I'm not asking you whether it was true or not. Assuming the accused was speaking the truth, your theory goes by the board?—Yes.

At this point Dr. Pfister said he was not feeling well and the Court was adjourned.

DUCHESS NEEDS COMPLETE REST

London, July 12. It is officially announced that the Duchess of Gloucester, after a very busy year of many engagements, has been advised to take a complete rest. The Duke and Duchess will shortly leave for Kenya. They are expected to return to England early in November.—Reuter.

Prior to her marriage to the Duke of Gloucester, the Duchess spent most of her time in Kenya, where her uncle, Lt. Col. Lord Francis Scott, farms extensively. The Duchess, who is 37 years of age, is a well-known sportswoman, a lover of horses and a clever artist. She has done a good deal of painting, the majority of her subjects having Kenya as a background.

MEMORIAL TO LATE KING

London, July 12. A Memorial window was unveiled to-day at Winchester Cathedral by Mr. Joseph B. Kennedy, U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, in memory of the late King George V. The window was presented by American citizens residing in England. The American Ambassador said that King George V. had a very warm and special place in the hearts of the American people.—Reuter.

Permanent Office To Aid Refugees

Evian, July 12. It is understood that the International Refugee Conference has reached a provisional agreement to establish in London a permanent inter-Governmental organisation to deal with problem of refugees from Germany.

The organisation will probably hold its first meeting in London on August 3.

A draft resolution drawn up by Great Britain, France and the United States, dealing with the composition of the organisation, will be submitted to the delegations by Mr. Myron Taylor, the American Chairman of the Conference.

Delegates are referring the resolution to their respective Governments, and it is hoped that it will be ready for adoption at the concluding session on July 15.—Reuter.

RESIGNING FROM LEAGUE

Geneva, July 12. Venezuela has officially informed the Secretary of the League of Nations that she will resign membership from the League.—United Press.

such beautiful HAIR

Hair styles of today make careful washing a necessity. Ordinary soaps should be avoided. The free alkali they contain soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it under the frequent shampooings necessary to keep the hair beautiful.

Discriminating women everywhere use Mulsified because its pure, natural and greaseless oils keep the scalp well nourished. Mulsified leaves the hair soft and easy to manage — preserves the natural wave and colour — makes it sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

Two or three teaspoonfuls gives an abundance of rich, creamy lather — cleanses thoroughly — completely removes dirt, dust and dandruff. Don't envy the women with beautiful hair. Make your hair the envy of others by shampooing with...

Mr. Whyatt: If prisoner's answer that he knew what he was doing is true, your theory goes by the board?—If the statement he made yesterday was made in a clear mind it could have been true.

I'm not asking you whether it was true or not. Assuming the accused was speaking the truth, your theory goes by the board?—Yes.

At this point Dr. Pfister said he was not feeling well and the Court was adjourned.

HEARING RESUMES

His Lordship was heard to comment on the atmosphere of the Court and said he hoped something would be done about it some day.

When hearing was resumed after five minutes, Mr. Whyatt questioned Dr. Pfister. You said in evidence yesterday that as a psychologist you would not trust the prisoner's answers from the witness-box?—Yes.

Could you give the reasons?—He was emotional and he was in a certain state of confused mind.

Let's take the first one, emotion; you really think that there was anything abnormal in a man going to the witness-box and showing emotion when he confesses to a crime like this?—No, it all depends on the degree, and the mental state of the man.

If in fact he showed any emotion at all when confessing to a crime of this character, that might indicate the other way?—It might. I compared his state of mind in the morning and his state of mind in the afternoon, when he was quite calm.

Did you observe when I cross-examined him, he equivocated with me on the question of leprosy?—Yes.

But in the afternoon when he was telling his own story without any questioning from me, he stated that leprosy was regarded as an important matter?—I cannot recollect what he said in the afternoon.

CAVE DIFFERENT VERSIONS

What I am suggesting to you is that he gave a different version about his reaction to the accusation of leprosy in the afternoon from the one he gave in the morning; you agree with me?—I don't recollect what he said in the afternoon.

Counsel then read out prisoner's evidence on this point given in the afternoon, which was that "the husband and wife made him very angry by calling him a leper," and asked: On this point of leprosy which do you think is more probably true, his version in the morning or the one in the afternoon?—I cannot say.

His Lordship: What he said in the morning was that if someone called him a leper it was not important. Mr. Whyatt (to witness): Which answer you think is true?—I cannot say.

Am I right in saying that you prefer the evidence he gave in the morning?—I don't prefer any. I say he was absolutely confused, sometimes saying something and later saying something which was not true.

You say he was absolutely confused. If he was, and his reaction to a false accusation of leprosy was anger, isn't that the reaction of an ordinary man?—Ordinary people could say that.

Aren't you an ordinary person?—Yes.

Then I take it you would say so?—Yes.

EVIDENCE OF SANE MAN

In that case, his evidence in the afternoon was indicative of a sane man?—Yes.

What part of evidence that he gave in the afternoon was it that made you think that he was not speaking like a sane and orderly man?—I cannot recollect what he said, but the impression I had was that he was in a confused state of mind and agitated.

We are agreed about that, but what was it in his evidence that led you to believe he was not an ordinary man?—I cannot recollect what he said, but the impression I had was that he was in a confused state of mind and agitated.

I know that, but what I am asking you is this, as a scientific man give me your reasons?—His statements were so often contradictory that I should say he may say one thing and after sometime he may say another.

Did he make any contradictory statements in his evidence yesterday afternoon?—No.

Well, I am asking you on what you based your opinion, confining your attention to the evidence he gave in the afternoon, that he was not speaking like an ordinary man?

Witness replied he could not recollect what had actually been said by the prisoner. However, he read a report of the proceedings from the S. C. M. Post, which quoted prisoner as saying he preferred to be guilty rather than be treated as a lunatic.

SIGN OF ABNORMAL MIND

Mr. Whyatt: Is it necessary that a person should say he would rather speak the truth than be treated as a lunatic?—No, but in this case it would indicate that he was not of a normal mind.

When Counsel was about to put another question Dr. Pfister again asked permission to leave the Court, whereupon Mr. Whyatt said that if it would assist he would not ask any more questions.

Before he left the witness-box, however, Dr. Pfister was asked by Mr. Macnamara why he went to the roof, that his answer was because he thought there was an earthquake?—Yes.

Assuming that there was an earthquake, would that indicate a healthy mind?—It would indicate an unsound mind.

Dr. G. I. Shaw was the last witness called and he was put in the box by the Crown as an expert witness. He stated that he was Medical Officer of the Hongkong Prisons and had seen prisoner almost daily since July 11.

It was required nowadays that the Medical Officer make out a report on prisoners awaiting trial on the capital charge and in Chun's case he had sent in his report stating that he regarded him as sane.

In reply to questions, witness said he could not himself get into the Chinese mind but he had had conversations with accused in which he had told a connected story of his family history. He said his mother was 70, his father had died after a four days illness, he had two brothers one of whom was a shoemaker in England and accused added that he himself was married and had two children living near Canton.

DON'T KNOW WAR IS ON

With regard to Dr. Pfister's questions, witness said: I regret to say My Lord, that I have taken the opportunity of asking prisoners why they did not go and fight for Chiang Kai-shek and a great many of them do not know who he is. I have asked many why they came to prison instead of fighting and scores of them do not know there is a war on.

Witness said he made a physical examination of accused in order to see if there was some disease which might give rise to insanity but there was none. The knee jerks were normal except on the previous day when the strain of the trial might have been the cause of exaggerated reflexes. On July 2 he applied the retinoscopy test to prisoner, putting atropin drops in the eye to examine the back of the eyes for some hidden disorder but found none. Incidentally the dilatation effects of these drops on the pupils may have influenced Dr. Pfister in his examination of the accused soon after, since the doctor had not been informed of the test.

In cross-examination Dr. Shaw said he did not express any opinion as to the sanity or otherwise of the prisoner at the time he committed the crime.

When prisoner was admitted to the prison hospital he was asked to give his history and he said that about forty days before he had shot or stabbed a European lady on the Peak, had then jumped from the second storey and did not know anything more until he woke up in hospital.

OFTEN ACT LIKE MADMEN

Asked if he could explain why prisoner said he felt an "earthquake"

Witness said it depended on prisoner's state of mind but he might have been referring to his struggle with Mr. Challinor. He had often seen patients suffering from cerebral hemorrhage act like madmen.

Witness said he thought that in the witness box, accused felt the strain and preferred to own up rather than go through the cross-examination.

Mr. Macnamara: My suggestion is that the strain made him change his story.

Witness: He had previously said he did the killing.

Dr. Shaw concluded that he still believed prisoner was sane.

In his final address to the jury, Mr. Macnamara said he was claiming no more than that on the evidence the jury must be able to say that at the time of the crime the accused was insane inasmuch as he was an epileptic equivalent and did not know what he was doing. Instead of having the ordinary epilepsy, prisoner had the equivalent of such a fit and if that was proved, the jury must return a verdict of guilty but insane.

SHOWED MENTAL DISORDER

Mr. Challinor had said that accused was stupid, difficult and impossible, as a servant and Counsel submitted that those adjectives must apply to accused as a man also. Dr. Durran had said that sufferers from epileptic equivalent did not as a general rule know what they were doing but there were rare exceptions when recollection did come back to them. Dr. Thomas had agreed that the cumulative effect of accused's acts showed mental disorder.

Referring to prisoner's confession, Counsel said there were two views to it: it might be true or it might be merely further evidence on his state of mind. It was for the jury to say whether the confession could be believed, for it had been known that there were such things as false confessions. Prisoner had stated he was not feeling well, when he was in the witness-box, and the strain of the trial might have induced him to make up his mind to say something to put an end to "this miserable dragged-out trial."

PREVIOUS SEIZURES

The evidence of Dr. Pfister had been clear and consistent. He had made two elaborate examinations of accused, and was of the opinion that prisoner was in a very low mental condition and that at the time of the murder he was suffering from what was known as epileptic equivalent.

He went mad, and did not know what he was doing. This might have been due to domestic trouble, the notice to quit or the refusal of a reference. That accused had been subjected to such seizures had been stated in evidence by two persons, who said that on one occasion prisoner broke up the crockery in the kitchen and on another smashed the furniture.

On the question of medical evidence, it was only fair to say that Dr. Shaw did not agree with Dr. Pfister's diagnosis. Dr. Shaw, however, had admitted he could not give any notice as to the mental condition of the prisoner when the stabbing took place. Further, he had not listened to all the evidence, whereas Dr. Pfister had.

QUESTION OF MOTIVE

Dealing with the question of motive, Counsel said there was some evidence of a grievance on the part of prisoner, real or imaginary, about his treatment by Mr. and Mrs. Challinor. It was for the jury to say whether that was enough motive for the dreadful killing, but Counsel submitted that a motive such as this was negligible to the mind of a sane person for such an attack. If he had determined to murder Mrs. Challinor, while in a normal state of mind, the first thing he would have done would be to escape, instead of attacking the coolie and the gardener. Further, there was the climbing to the roof and the thought of an earthquake, and these actions were difficult to reconcile with that of a sane man.

The great strength displayed in his struggle with Mr. Challinor was consistent with an epileptic seizure and not consistent with a man in a normal state of mind. Again there was the terrible savagery of the attack on Mrs. Challinor, who had eight wounds, and this was more consistent with mania than with sanity.

MUST USE COMMON SENSE

The only solution, Counsel suggested to the jury, in considering a case of this kind, was to exercise common sense, by which one could make out some sort of sense of all the different factors in the evidence. If they did so, the jury could come to no other conclusion than that prisoner did not know what he was doing, and therefore their verdict should be guilty but insane.

MR. WHYATT CONCLUDES

Mr. Whyatt opened his address by paying a tribute to Mr. Macnamara for his "battle against adversity," a fact which always excited his admiration and sometimes sympathy because he was battling on behalf of a man who had confessed to the killing and who had apologised for wasting the time of the Court.

Prisoner, continued Counsel, had admitted he knew what he was doing was wrong, he was labouring under great provocation, and was angry at the time. That was a strong motive. He had removed his belongings to a cinsman of his before the killing, and the only rational explanation for this action, Counsel suggested, was what he was preparing for a speedy exit from the Colony.

The reason why he did not leave the Colony after the stabbing was because he was not in a fit condition to do so, as he was covered with blood and suffering from cuts and wounds, and his garments were torn. A sane man with the highest degree of mentally would be suffering from great mental shock, if he had gone through what prisoner did.

FOR JURY TO DECIDE

Counsel said he did not care what was the mental condition of accused when he attacked the coolie; what he was concerned with was his mental condition when he attacked Mrs. Challinor. The accused had made his confession in the witness box and it was not for any doctor or anybody else to tell the jury whether to believe that confession or not. The jury themselves were the best judges of that and an eminent authority had laid down that there was no better human test than the evidence of the prisoner himself in the witness box where he was under no threat, no inducement and no ill-founded hope. Those conditions, he suggested, pertained to this case.

It was a cardinal rule that an accused must be regarded as responsible for his actions until the contrary was proved, and the onus for that proof must fall on the defence.

"Accused stands there to-day, a sane man. It is not disputed that he is a sane man. He is a self-confessed murderer and he knows to-day what

Without Colic!—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!

The liver should work two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. You lose up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks nasty.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those famous Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel grand up! Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red package. Refuse anything else.

Huge Deficit Forecast By U.S. President

Early Estimates Upset By Trend Of Business

Washington, July 12. A deficit of U.S.$3,984,000,000 is forecast for the fiscal year that began on July 1 in revised Budget estimates issued by President Roosevelt to-day. It is explained that the estimates issued in January were based on the hope of a decided improvement in business which not only did not improve, but gradually grew worse.

The estimated expenditure of U.S.$3,985,000,000 will set a peace-time record for the United States, while the gross deficit, estimated at $4,004,000,000 will be the second largest deficit since the Great War.

President Roosevelt has calculated that Congress will probably have to appropriate an additional $500,000,000 for the Works Progress Administration.

The President expects that the decline in business will make inroads in every important branch of the Treasury's revenue, the total revenue probably falling from $6,241,000,000 last year to $5,000,000,000.

The President has estimated that defence costs will rise by $70,000,000 to a new post-war record of $1,050,000,000.

Owing to the Treasury's cash balance as a result of gold sterilisation and other causes, President Roosevelt expresses the opinion that it will be only necessary to borrow about $2,805,000,000 to finance the deficit.

Lord Perth Sees Ciano

Diplomats May Try To Hurry Accord

London, July 12. Discussions in Rome between the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Ciano, and the British Ambassador, Lord Perth, have given political circles here the impression that new developments are imminent in the negotiations to bring the Anglo-Italian agreement into effect.

It is announced that Lord Perth suggested that the discussions should be held, and that the British Ambassador made a definite proposition to the Italian Foreign Minister.

Further conversations are expected to take place between Count Ciano and Lord Perth before the end of the week.—Trans-Ocean.

$100 Fine For Radio Receiver Without Permit

A fine of $100—enough to pay for listeners' license for over eight years—was imposed on Yu Si-chuen, of 42 Village Road, Happy Valley, for being in possession of radio apparatus without a licence.

The fine was imposed by Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Magistracy this morning. Mr. A. E. E. Jeffries was in Court on behalf of the Post-master General.

Defendant's plea that receiving apparatus discovered in his premises was not in working order was not accepted by the Magistrate, who pointed out that the Tele-Communications Ordinance prohibited the possession of any apparatus without the necessary licence.

Defendant, it was stated in Court, had a licence which expired on December 31. He had failed to renew it.

KOWLOON CASE

A fine of $50 was imposed on Kwok Wai-tun, of 36 Jordan Road, by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for the possession of an unlicensed radio set.

Mr. James Key, Inspector of Wireless, said a licence had since been taken out.

FLOOD SPREADS IN HONAN

Peking, July 12. A new small break in the dykes of the Yellow River has made its appearance east of Kaileng, and the new flood waters are threatening the capital of Honan Province.

Flood-waters have now reached two to two and a half miles southwest of Lanfeng and are flowing in a southwesterly direction.

The flood stream is now 125 miles wide, but not very deep.—United Press.

SHIPS IN RADIO COMMUNICATION

The following ships are expected to be in wireless communication with the Hongkong Radio Station to-day: G. G. Paul, Dörmier, Nanchang, Heiga, Moller, Haiyang, Kutsang, Hongsang, Haitun, Yochow, Siang Wo, Hakusan Maru, Foshing, President Cleveland, Hosang, Yuensang, Empress of Canada, Potsdam, Sealara, Santhia, Bangalore, Somali, Empress of Japan.

Chinese And Indian Arrest Snatch Thief

COMMENDED IN COURT

Two passers-by, Ho San, a shop fold, and Gajjan Singh, an Indian motor-car driver, were commended by Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Magistracy this morning, for their assistance in arresting Li Wing, a 32-year-old unemployed snatch thief.

Li was charged with the larceny of $12 and a pawn ticket from Chiu Wal-king, a married woman, in the Tung Yuen pawnshop, in Johnston Road, yesterday.

The woman was counting her money when the defendant snatched it, and ran away.

He was chased by Ho San, Singh, and arrested. The money and pawn ticket, which defendant carried away, were not recovered.

Defendant was sentenced to three months' hard labour.

Seven Men On Fraud Charges Are Remanded

The seven Chinese charged with possession and uttering forged complementary passage tickets of the Sze Yap Shipping Company, appeared on remand before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy this morning.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan representing the Shipping Company, requested his Lordship to group the men into three sections so that there would be only three trials instead of seven, because some evidence was not relevant to all seven.

Chun Ming, 39, Cheung Wo, 39, and Ma Sau, 40, will be tried on July 21, 2.30 p.m.

Cheung Wo, Ma Sau, Cheung Man, 58, and Cheung Chun-lai, 52, were remanded for a week, and July 22, 2.30 p.m. was fixed for the hearing.

The last group, Ma Sau, Chiu Tui-shun, 48, and Li Sing, 55, were also remanded for a week, and will be tried on July 25, 2.30 p.m.

Acting Detective-Inspector L. R. Whant and Detective-Sergeant J. Hunter are in charge of the cases.

Conservative M. P. Passes

London, July 12. The death occurred to-day of Mr. Frank Clarke, Managing Director of Messrs. Herbert Clarke & Sons, Ltd. He is a Conservative M.P. for the Dartford division of Kent.

The late Mr. Clarke represented the electors of Dartford for several years and was, in addition, a member of the Kent County Council, a Justice of the Peace and a Freeman of the Port of London.

His death will necessitate a by-election in Dartford where, at 1935 elections, he had a 2,646 majority over Mrs. J. L. Adamson, the Labour candidate.

Mr. Clarke wrested the Dartford seat from Labour in the 1931 elections when he converted the 1929 Labour majority of 10,303 to a Conservative majority of 6,476.—British Wireless.

Storms Stop Climbers

Simla, July 12. Having equipped Camp No. 4, situated at a height of 20,340 feet, all the climbers of the German Nangaparbat Expedition have been forced to return to their base camp owing to ceaseless snowfalls, states Reuter's Correspondent with the expedition.

They intend to wait a week for an abatement of the monsoon.—Reuter.

STOCK EXCHANGE FOLLOWS WALL ST.

London, July 12. The Stock Exchange closely followed Wall Street to-day, opening fully, but hardening later.

Gilt-edged opened easy, and then recovered on bear covering. Other sections moved narrowly, trading being more selective.

On the Commodity Market wheat was firm, with a scarcity of offerings. Cotton was easier.

On the Foreign Exchange Market dollars continued in active demand, while French francs, after weakening, recovered. Wall Street was firmer.—Reuter Special.

QUEZON ABOARD EMPRESS LINER

Shanghai, July 12. Among the prominent passengers travelling to Manila, via Hongkong, by the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada are: President Manuel Quezon, President of the Philippines; Mr. Manuel Roxas and family; Mr. Carson Taylor, publisher and editor of the Manila Daily Bulletin.

Shanghai newspapermen fruitlessly sought an interview with President Quezon to-day.—United Press.

CAR CATCHES FIRE

An Austin Seven motor car caught fire in the East Asia Service Garage, Kowloon, early this morning, due to a short circuit in the wiring. The car, which had been in the garage for some time, was completely destroyed.

Deliberate Attempt To Defraud Colony

Stating that it was a deliberate attempt to defraud the revenue of the Colony, Mr. H. R. Butters fined Yip Nai, of 26 Possession Street, $75 at the Central Magistracy this morning for failing to stamp a receipt for the sum of $19.00.

Detective-Sergeant R. Granger said that the actual sum received by the defendant and recorded in his daily cash book was $20.05, but he had issued a receipt for $19.00 in order to save the cost of a 10-cent revenue stamp.

RENT RECEIPT CASE

Mr. S. Ng Quin appeared on behalf of Mrs. Ng Wong-shui, of 9 Arbuthnot Road, second floor, who was summoned for failing to stamp a rent receipt for $33. Pleading in mitigation of the offence, Mr. Quin said that the omission had been through carelessness rather than design. Mrs. Ng had issued stamped receipts to the same tenant before, but had forgotten to do so on this occasion.

A fine of $15 was imposed. Tang Wai-sun, of 25 Connaught Road Central, ground floor, and Chan Chan-yu, of 172 Tung Lo Wan Road, ground floor, were fined $15 each for failing to stamp receipts for the sums of $60 and $68.00 respectively.

PEAK MURDER TRIAL ADJOURNS; WITNESS PLEADS ILLNESS

he knew then, that what he was doing was wrong," said Counsel.

NO PROOF OF INSANITY

"Let me read another authority to you: 'It has also been said by the prisoner's Counsel that the attack of the prisoner was that of a madman in committing the offence at such a time in the presence of the woman's husband who had arms within his reach. But it would be a most dangerous doctrine to lay down that because a man committed a desperate offence with the chance of instant death or the certainty of future punishment before him, he was therefore insane—as if the perpetration of crime was to be excused by their very atrocity.'"

"Gentlemen of the jury, in obedience to your oaths, can you refuse to return a verdict as the law requires? Shortly you will pronounce the last word, let that be a word that will leave you with a sense of duty done."

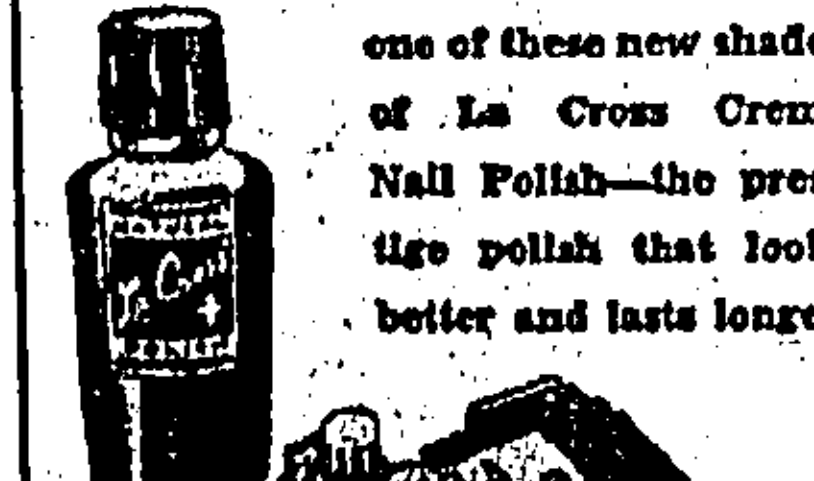

The Court then adjourned to 2.30 p.m. for the Judge's summing-up.

STOLE CLOCK FROM HONGKONG CLUB

For the theft of a clock from the servants' quarters of the Hongkong Club, Wong Tung, 50, unemployed, was fined $20, with the alternative of a month's imprisonment, by Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy this morning. Sub-Inspector Plattery prosecuted.

FOOT ITCH Athlete's Foot

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

BEWARE OF IT SPREADING

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

HERE'S HOW TO TREAT IT

The germ that causes the disease is known as Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

ITCHING STOPS IMMEDIATELY

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief; especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

After using H.F.

City Centre
Of Cholera
In Hongkong

Practically all of yesterday's cases of cholera reported to the local health authorities were discovered in the residential area of Victoria.

Fourteen cases were reported, and one from Shaukiwan, Aberdeen, the New Territories and the harbour were free of the disease.

Total number of cases reported since the outbreak of the disease in Hongkong is now 133, over a 100 of the cases being reported from the island.

Hongkong was comparatively free of notifiable diseases with the exception of cholera. One case of typhoid was reported from Victoria, two cases of measles, one each from Victoria and Kowloon, and Kowloon reported a case of meningitis.

Of the eight cases of dysentery reported, seven were in Kowloon and one in Victoria. The New Territories and the harbour were entirely free of notifiable disease.

FOR THE PROTECTION OF CHILDREN.

What to do to help a child

Anyone knowing of a child who has been assaulted, neglected, or ill-treated in a manner likely to cause unnecessary suffering or injury to health, or knowing of a parent who is seeking advice on any matter concerning a child, would be doing an act of kindness by communicating at once with—

The Hon. Secretaries, H.K.S.P.C., Room 308, Bank of East Asia Building, Hongkong, or the Inspector, 49, Folketum Road, 1st floor; or the loon.

All further steps will be taken, and expenses borne, by the Society.
The informant's name will be kept strictly private, except in cases where malice is proved.

Shipping Line Fined For Incorrect Lists

The Messageries Maritimes line was summoned before Mr. H. R.
Butters at the Central Magistracy this morning for failing to submit a correct return of passengers to the police.

Acting Sub-Inspector J. H. E.
Edwards said that the Company sent a list which described three Russian passengers, who arrived in the Colony on June 23, as British, and a German passenger as a Czechoslovakian.

The firm had been warned before, concluded the prosecuting officer.
A fine of $100 was imposed.

FOUR WARSHIPS SUNK
BY CHINESE RAIDERS

low Kweichih. After dumping their explosives, the Chinese raiders sighted one of the large-sized vessels sinking.
A large force of Japanese pursuit planes suddenly appeared. The Chinese planes ascended higher and dived down to attack them. One of the Japanese was shot down in flames.
The Chinese planes returned in safety.—Central News.

Japanese Plane Brought Down

Nanchang, July 13.
Whilst conducting reconnaissance over Nanchang yesterday morning a large Japanese plane was brought down by Chinese anti-aircraft gunfire.

Reports from Kuikiang state that three Japanese planes raided the city yesterday. About 20 bombs were dropped. However, damage was negligible.

Extensive reconnaissance was conducted by Japanese planes over Yusian on the Chekiang-Kiangsi Railway, Hainan on Loyang Lake, and other places in Kiangsi during the day.—Central News.

ANOTHER AIR LINK WITH H.K.

Pucheu, assistant-manager of Air France at Hanoi. He wore khaki shorts and a wide sun-helmet and seemed very pleased with the flight.

He was met by the French Consul at Hongkong, M. Frank Dupuy, officials of the Messageries Maritimes line, local agents for Air France, and Captain E. A. R. Fowles, of the aviation department of the A.P.C.

Mr. Pucheu said the flight from Hanoi had been uneventful and that two other trial flights would be made before the regular service was inaugurated on August 3.

He stayed only a few minutes at the airport as he had to hurry off for a luncheon engagement with the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote.

The plane was piloted by M. Corsin.
Also aboard were M. Combar, chief engineer and M. Montel, radio operator.

NEW MACHINES COMING

Air France will use the Fokker machine for the test flights before inaugurating the regular service with new Dewoitine planes. The other test flights will be made on July 20 and July 27.

As a rehearsal for the normal working of the schedule the Fokker which arrived to-day will leave Hongkong at 6.30 a.m. on Friday for the return trip to Hanoi.

Fort Bayard will be left out of the ordinary itinerary, but will be available as an emergency landing ground, following the considerable alterations which have been made there recently.

Details of the mail and passenger carrying capacity of the Dewoitine type of planes have not been revealed locally but it is understood they carry a maximum fuel load of 1,800 litres of petrol and 30 litres of oil.

The link between Hongkong and Hanoi will connect with Air France's service which runs through Bangkok, Rangoon, Anyab, Calcutta, Allahabad, Jodhpur, Karachi, Jask, Bushire, Baghdad, Damascus, Tripoli, Castlorosso, Athens, Corfu, Naples, Mar-sailles, Paris and London.
At present Air France planes leave Hanoi every Monday and arrive in London six days later.

DOG-OWNERS FINED
IN CITY COURT

Miss M. Roza was fined $5 by Mr.
R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy this morning, when her representative pleaded guilty to a charge of allowing her dog to be upon the bench of Deep Water Bay on July 1.
Appearing on a similar summons,
Mr. G. Hargreaves was fined $5 by Mr. R. Edwards. Police Sergeant
Estall prosecuted.

IN PHILIPPINES

Washington, July 12.
It is rumoured here that the Philippines, at the instance of the High Commissioner, Mr. Paul V.
McNutt, has arranged for the admission of 200 German refugees.
The War and State Departments have no information on the subject.

CANTON BOMBED

Two bridges connecting the island with the city have been barricaded since the first alarm. The barricades will not be removed until the "All Clear" signal is given.

By telephone Reuter learns that the bombardment of Lokching was most severe. Casualties are probably heavy.

United Press reports that bombs fell in the open country around Saichuen and near the Seventy-two Martyrs' Memorial.

Three Japanese planes flew over Canton at 10.40 a.m. without dropping any bombs. No planes have been seen since that time. But the danger signal is still hoisted, for somewhere near nineteen Japanese bombers are lurking.

A later Reuter message states that Canton was bombed thrice during the morning. The Christian Village on Honam Island, across the Pearl River from Shamen, was severely hit.

200 Dead In Wuchang
Bombing

Hankow, July 13.
Official quarters estimated that at least 200 civilians were killed and between 400 and 500 wounded during the morning Japanese air raids over Wuchang yesterday. Among the wounded, 272 are considered to be serious.

So far 150 badly mutilated bodies, mostly women and children, have been extricated from under the debris. Excavation work in the devastated areas still continues.

Yesterday's bombing was the severest that Wuchang has ever experienced.

The explosives destroyed 105 houses, rendering 1,000 people homeless.

Two of the bombs landed at St.
Hilda's School for Girls, an American missionary institution, demolishing two houses and killing two of the refugees inside.

One hospital, which displayed a conspicuous Red Cross flag was hit.
The office and the surgical room were shattered. Many patients were either killed or severely wounded.

All local hospitals are packed to capacity.—Central News.

Earlier News

Canton, July 13.

Canton shuddered this morning at the terrifying clatter of anti-aircraft fire and the roar of planes flying in mass formation, as the Japanese appeared over the city for their second raid in 24 hours.

The city had only ten minutes' warning before 24 raiders appeared through the clouds.

In ten minutes, between 8.10 a.m. and 8.20 a.m., they dropped at least 20 bombs in the vicinity of the Government buildings, the missiles exploding so closely together that the deafening roar was almost continuous.

The raid was over almost as soon as it had started. Fifteen minutes after they appeared over the city the Japanese planes flew across the Pearl River to Honam Island where, as a parting gesture, they dropped a number of bombs in the vicinity of the Lingnam University.

They disappeared at 8.30 a.m.—
United Press.

Reuter adds that two or three bombs were dropped near the Pearl River bridge.

14-YEAR OLD BOY KILLED BY FALL

a 14-year-old boy was killed through a fall.

and fell from the verandah into the street.

He was instantly killed.

Air Forces Active

Hankow, July 12.
Considerable air activity was displayed by both the Chinese and Japanese air forces along the Yangtze to-day.

The Chinese planes showed renewed vigour in their operations in the vicinity of Kuikiang, bombing the Japanese naval concentrations attempting to pierce the boom 15 miles below the city.

While Japanese planes were bombing Kuikiang, the Chinese machines raided the Japanese at Hsiangkow causing, it is believed, considerable damage.—Trans-Ocean.

Eye-Witness Tale of Hankow Horror

Hankow, July 12.
Flying shrapnel killed the son of the Chinese gatekeeper at the Christian Alliance Mission, where concussion smashed every window, in to-day's trafic air raid.

The Rev. Eckvall, of Manchester, standing on the blood-stained stairs, told me: "When the planes came refugees poured into the compound."

"I went into the cellar to take care of them. My wife remained upstairs."
"There was a loud explosion and the house shook."

I visited St. Hilda's School, where three American flags were flying, and saw a huge crater between the front lawn and the road outside.

Just inside the gate a small house was smashed to bits. Mud and wood were mingled in indescribable confusion.

Miss H. F. Gosline, of Baltimore, was the only foreigner residing at the school. She was in Hankow at the time of the bombing and rushed home in horror, expecting the worst.

"I can't tell you how glad I was to find that the 200 refugees in the school were unhurt," she said.

Miss Gosline's servant said: "I heard the planes coming and then there was an awful bang. I was so scared that I fell down and crawled out of the back of the house."

"Then came another terrible bang, and there was black smoke everywhere."

Eight to ten bombs were dropped in the vicinity of the school.—

HUGHES WELL AHEAD OF POST'S RECORD FOR WORLD FLIGHT

New York, July 12.

Howard Hughes has reached the half-way mark in his 13,000-mile flight around the world in less than two days.

Hurting across Europe and Siberia, he reached Omsk, on the trans-Siberian line, at 9 p.m. Moscow time (1 a.m. this morning Hongkong Time), and almost immediately departed again for Irkutsk.

The total elapsed time from New York to Omsk, via Paris and Moscow, was 35 hours, 11 minutes.

Regiment arrived at Haifa this afternoon. —Reuter.

TERROR STILL REIGNS

Haifa, July 12.

Palestine's third day of terror began this afternoon when two bombs were thrown within an hour of each other at a post office van, slightly injuring one Jew.

Another bomb thrown in the Arab quarter exploded harmlessly.

Two fires, believed to be the work of incendiaries, are raging in the Arab quarter.

Another bomb, flung at a Jewish bus, was followed by shots. Neither caused any casualties.

Later two Jews were seriously injured by a bomb flung at the entrance to a paper mill, where a Jew and a Jewess were stoned by Arabs.

An Arab preacher employed at the Mosque of Omar was shot and killed in Jerusalem, but it is believed that the assassins were Arab extremists and not Jews. —Reuter.

TROOPS POURING IN

London, July 12.

A further report on the situation in Palestine was made by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr.
Malcolm MacDonald, in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Mr. MacDonald regretted that there had been another series of acts of violence in a number of centres.

H.M.S. Repulse was remaining at Haifa, and 20 officers and 254 men had been landed from her to assist in the maintenance of order.

The First Battalion of the Irish Guards arrived in Haifa and the First Battalion of the Essex Regiment was due to-day, while the First Squadron of the Royal Hussars would arrive to-morrow.

Another two squadrons of Royal Hussars were due to arrive in Palestine on Thursday, Mr. Mac-Donald concluded. —Reuter.

Opium Figures In To-Day's Court Cases

Four separate cases of opium possession came before Hongkong Courts this morning, all of them resulting in convictions.

A 30-year-old unemployed Chinese named Kwan Man was fined $275, or four months' imprisonment, for being in possession of prepared opium and keeping an opium den in Ko Shing Street.

Two Chinese, Tsang Fook and Chan Sing, were jointly charged with being in possession of dutiable spirits aboard a junk at Cheungshawan, and were fined $22 and $10 respectively or, alternatively, a month's and 14 days' imprisonment. Mr. R. Edwards threatened to confiscate the junk if defendants appeared in Court again.

Leung Wai was fined $110 or, in default, two months' imprisonment for being in possession of prepared opium, while, for a similar offence, Leung Kum was fined $160 or, in default, ten weeks' imprisonment.

The airman and his four companions hopped off from Paris at 124 a.m. B.S.T. and reached Moscow at 11.10 a.m. (0.10 a.m. B.S.T.), covering France, Germany, Poland and part of Soviet Russia, a distance of 1,075 miles, in just under eight hours.

Staying only long enough to refuel his Lockheed monoplane, "New York World Fair, 1939," Hughes took off from Moscow at 1.31 p.m. (11.31 a.m.
B.S.T.) for his long flight across the wastes of Siberia and the Arctic to Alaska.

At Moscow he was 17½ hours ahead of the record time set by the late Wiley Post on his solo flight around the world over the same route in 1931.

The flight from Moscow to Omsk took only 7 hours, 20 minutes, the plane landing gracefully at the Siberian airport at 9 p.m., Moscow
Time (7 p.m. B.S.T.).

The National Broadcasting Corporation, which is continuously broadcasting messages from Hughes over its radio net work, announced this morning that the airman were wintering across Siberia to Irkutsk, their next stop, leaving Omsk at 11.57
p.m. B.S.T.

MESSAGES RELAYED

Berlin, July 12.

During his flight from Paris to Moscow, Howard Hughes was in constant radio communication with Reich Broadcasting Company, which relayed all messages from the airman to the National Broadcasting Corporation in America.

Every half-hour Hughes was on the air, giving vivid accounts of his flight, which were promptly relayed by short-wave to the United States.

During practically the entire journey across Germany, Hughes was unaware of his exact whereabouts, as he was forced to fly above heavy banks of clouds which totally obscured the country-side below.

King Still Confined To His Bed

London, July 12.

A Bulletin issued at the Royal Lodge, Windsor, and signed by Sir John Weir and Lord Dawson of Penn, Physicians Ordinary to the King, states that His Majesty continues to make satisfactory progress.

His Majesty is remaining in bed for the present, the Bulletin continues.

It is understood that the doctors are well satisfied with the King's progress, but in view of the coming visit to Paris wish to take no risks; hence the decision that His Majesty should remain in bed for the next day or so. —Reuter.

KING RECOVERED

It is officially announced that His Majesty the King has practically recovered from his illness.

He is reported to have held a telephonic conversation with the Duke of Windsor in Cannes. —United Press.

JAPANESE REPLY RECEIVED

But U.S. Still Not Quite Satisfied

Washington, July 12.

The United States Government has received from Japan a comprehensive reply to the Note of May 31 protesting against the Japanese treatment of American property and citizens in China.

The Note is believed to embody the recommendations of an official Japanese Commission which was sent from Tokyo to examine the situation on the spot.

Announcing the receipt of the Japanese reply, Mr. Cordell Hull, the Secretary of State, said it was extensive, but there were still some points needing clarification. —Reuter.

Wine-Keeper Fined For Carelessness

Remarking that it was a case of carelessness, Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen imposed an inclusive fine of $100 on Li Hee, licensee of a wine shop in Sa Po Road, when he pleaded guilty to four summonses in connection with offences under the Liquors Ordinance at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

Defendant said his accountant was to blame, but being the licensee, he had to take the responsibility.

Revenue Officer E. T. Warden said defendant's shop had been visited on June 14 and the books examined.

The first summons, for failing to record correctly in the Stock Book the amount of a sale, was taken out when it was found that a sale of 3.2
gallons of spirit had been entered only as a sale of one gallon.

It was also discovered that 42 gallons of spirit had been sold to a person on March 17, when, under the condition of the licence, not more than eight gallons should be sold to the same person on the same day.

The other two summonses were applied for because the particulars of a sale had not been filled in and a distilling pass had not been cancelled in the proper manner.

THIS IS "PIRACY"!

The attitude of the Japanese press in the delicate matter of the occupation of the Paracels Islands by French police would be amusing if it were not so deadly earnest. The Japanese do not often bluster. So when the influential Hochi Shimbun cries "Piracy" against France it is not a joking matter. Moreover, the Hochi Shimbun appears to suspect that Great Britain has encouraged France to seize the group whose ownership has for years been in dispute between France and China. But what is a little ludicrous is the Japanese claim to ownership of the Paracels at this late date, the discovery, it is said, having been made by a Japanese who has been carrying on an export business from the group for years. This is all very confusing; the more so since, to most observers it will appear that the ownership of the Paracels is scarcely a thing to quarrel seriously about.

As far as France is concerned, there really seems to be no good reason to doubt her sincerity when she says that police have been despatched simply to safeguard the staff of meteorological and other workers there, whose work is essential to the safeguarding of international navigation in these dangerous waters. It is possible that France had in mind when she decided to guard this staff the fate of the very useful wireless and weather station at Pratas Shoals, which was reported to have been dismantled by the Japanese following their occupation of that island last year. Subsequently other Far East weather stations have experienced much difficulty in plotting the course of typhoons, for Pratas was of invaluable assistance in this work. But whether or not France remembered the Pratas affair, and its consequences, it is hardly likely, if she intended to permanently occupy the Paracels, that she would do so with a handful of Annamite policemen.

Personalities of Old Hongkong

JOHN WALTER HULME,
CHIEF JUSTICE

By T. PAUL GREGORY

A great man of Hongkong's past was the first Chief Justice—the Hon. John Walter Hulme. He was in certain respects a stern representative of the age; but in others, he was most genial and won for himself during his stay in the Colony a host of warm-hearted and loyal friends. However, his most outstanding characteristic was his spirit of rugged independence which often brought him into collision with that other individualist of the day—the Governor, Sir John Francis Davis.

The Hon. John Walter Hulme was born in England in the year 1800. Very little is known of his youth, save that he was admitted to the Bar of the Middle Temple when he was quite young and early in his career he gained a reputation throughout the country as a sound lawyer. Perhaps, much of his legal success was due to his associate, the famous Joseph Chitty, a barrister whose name is even yet a familiar one with members of the legal profession. Whilst he was associated with Chitty (who incidentally was his brother-in-law) Hulme collaborated in the compilation of a number of well-known law books which added immensely to his reputation. Largely on this account, and also, undoubtedly, to his success as a practicing barrister he was appointed to serve as Chief Justice of the Colony of Hongkong, with the specific task of creating an efficient system of legal administration and procedure from the old-fashioned military court which had given so much dissatisfaction.

about it until nearly a year later, when the Governor went to the limits of citing Chief Justice Hulme to appear before the Executive Council to answer the following charges:

First—For having been intoxicated at a dinner party given by Rear-Admiral Sir Thomas Cochrane on board H.M.S. Agincourt in the latter part of 1845.
Second—For having been intoxicated at the house of Major-General D'Aguilar in July 1846.
Third—For being an habitual drunkard.
The Executive Council in addition to the Governor, was composed of the G. O. C., Major-General D'Aguilar, Mr. H. K. Johnston (Secretary to Sir John Davis in his capacity of Plenipotentiary), and Major Caine. The G. O. C. was apparently an unwilling member of the examining body; for he vehemently protested against the whole proceedings, declaring that it was both shameful and disgusting to pillory a man who had been a guest at one of his parties.
In vain did Judge Hulme demand a public hearing of the case, and the affair created intense excitement in the Colony. Public opinion became outspoken and menacing in attitude. The residents believed that the gist of the matter was nothing more than an attempt to "railroad" the Chief Justice out of office. The public rallied manfully to his support and every one agreed that even in that day of hard drinkers, Judge Hulme was never an imbibor to excess. They cited his appearances in Court and the customary clarity of his judgments, which would be impossible in a man who was nothing more than as the Governor alleged a "notorious wine bibber." About sixty witnesses were called both for the prosecution and the defence, and all except one—Major Caine—testified that the Chief Justice had never been unduly intoxicated. The testimony of Major Caine, however, was the deciding factor with the Governor, and the Chief Justice was declared guilty on the first count—two years after it had allegedly occurred. In vain, did Major-General D'Aguilar and the leading residents protest; for the Governor's mind was made up, and he accordingly suspended Hulme from office on November 30, 1847.

Feud With The Governor

Judge Hulme arrived in Hongkong aboard H. M. S. Spitfire on May 7, 1844. With him as a fellow passenger on the voyage was Sir John Francis Davis, the first actual Governor of the Colony. The month following his arrival, he was appointed to serve on the newly created Legislative Council.
From the very first, Judge Hulme did not appear to "hit it off" very well with Governor Davis, and the dislike, which seemed to have been more or less mutual, soon broke out into an active feud. The trouble started over the case of a British merchant in Canton, a Mr. Charles Spencer Compton, who had been involved in some trouble in the foreign settlement at Shap-sam-hong. It seems that Compton had over-turned a hawker's stall on the "glorious Fourth" and had "beaten up" a Chinese official who had attempted to restrain him. Four days later, "feeling unduly exuberant" he further engaged in a fistie encounter with some of the Chinese on the border of the concession, which had extremely serious repercussions, ending up with a riot, in which three Chinese were killed.
The British Consul at Canton, Mr. McGregor wrote to Sir John Davis for instructions, and was informed that he should at once take action against Compton. As a result Compton was fined $200 for his part in the affair, but unfortunately, the legal aspects of the case became singularly twisted; for he was sentenced under one law and fined under another. The circumstances were adjudged peculiar, and Compton appealed to the Courts of Hongkong against the decision.

The case was brought up before Chief Justice Hulme on November 26, 1846, and he quashed the sentence and the fine. Governor Davis was extremely annoyed and sought means to suspend the Judge. However, singularly enough, nothing was done

of revenue may come or where, in some future time, she can base warships. France and Britain are equally interested in Japan's intentions in this latter direction and already have reason to fear for the future security of their Far East sea lanes; not that they fear attack, but they are unwilling that any power should be in a position to interrupt their commerce, isolate Hongkong and Indo-China and Kwangchow, and build a base which would be within raiding distance of these possessions. So it is altogether likely that Britain and France will oppose Japan's claim in the Paracels.

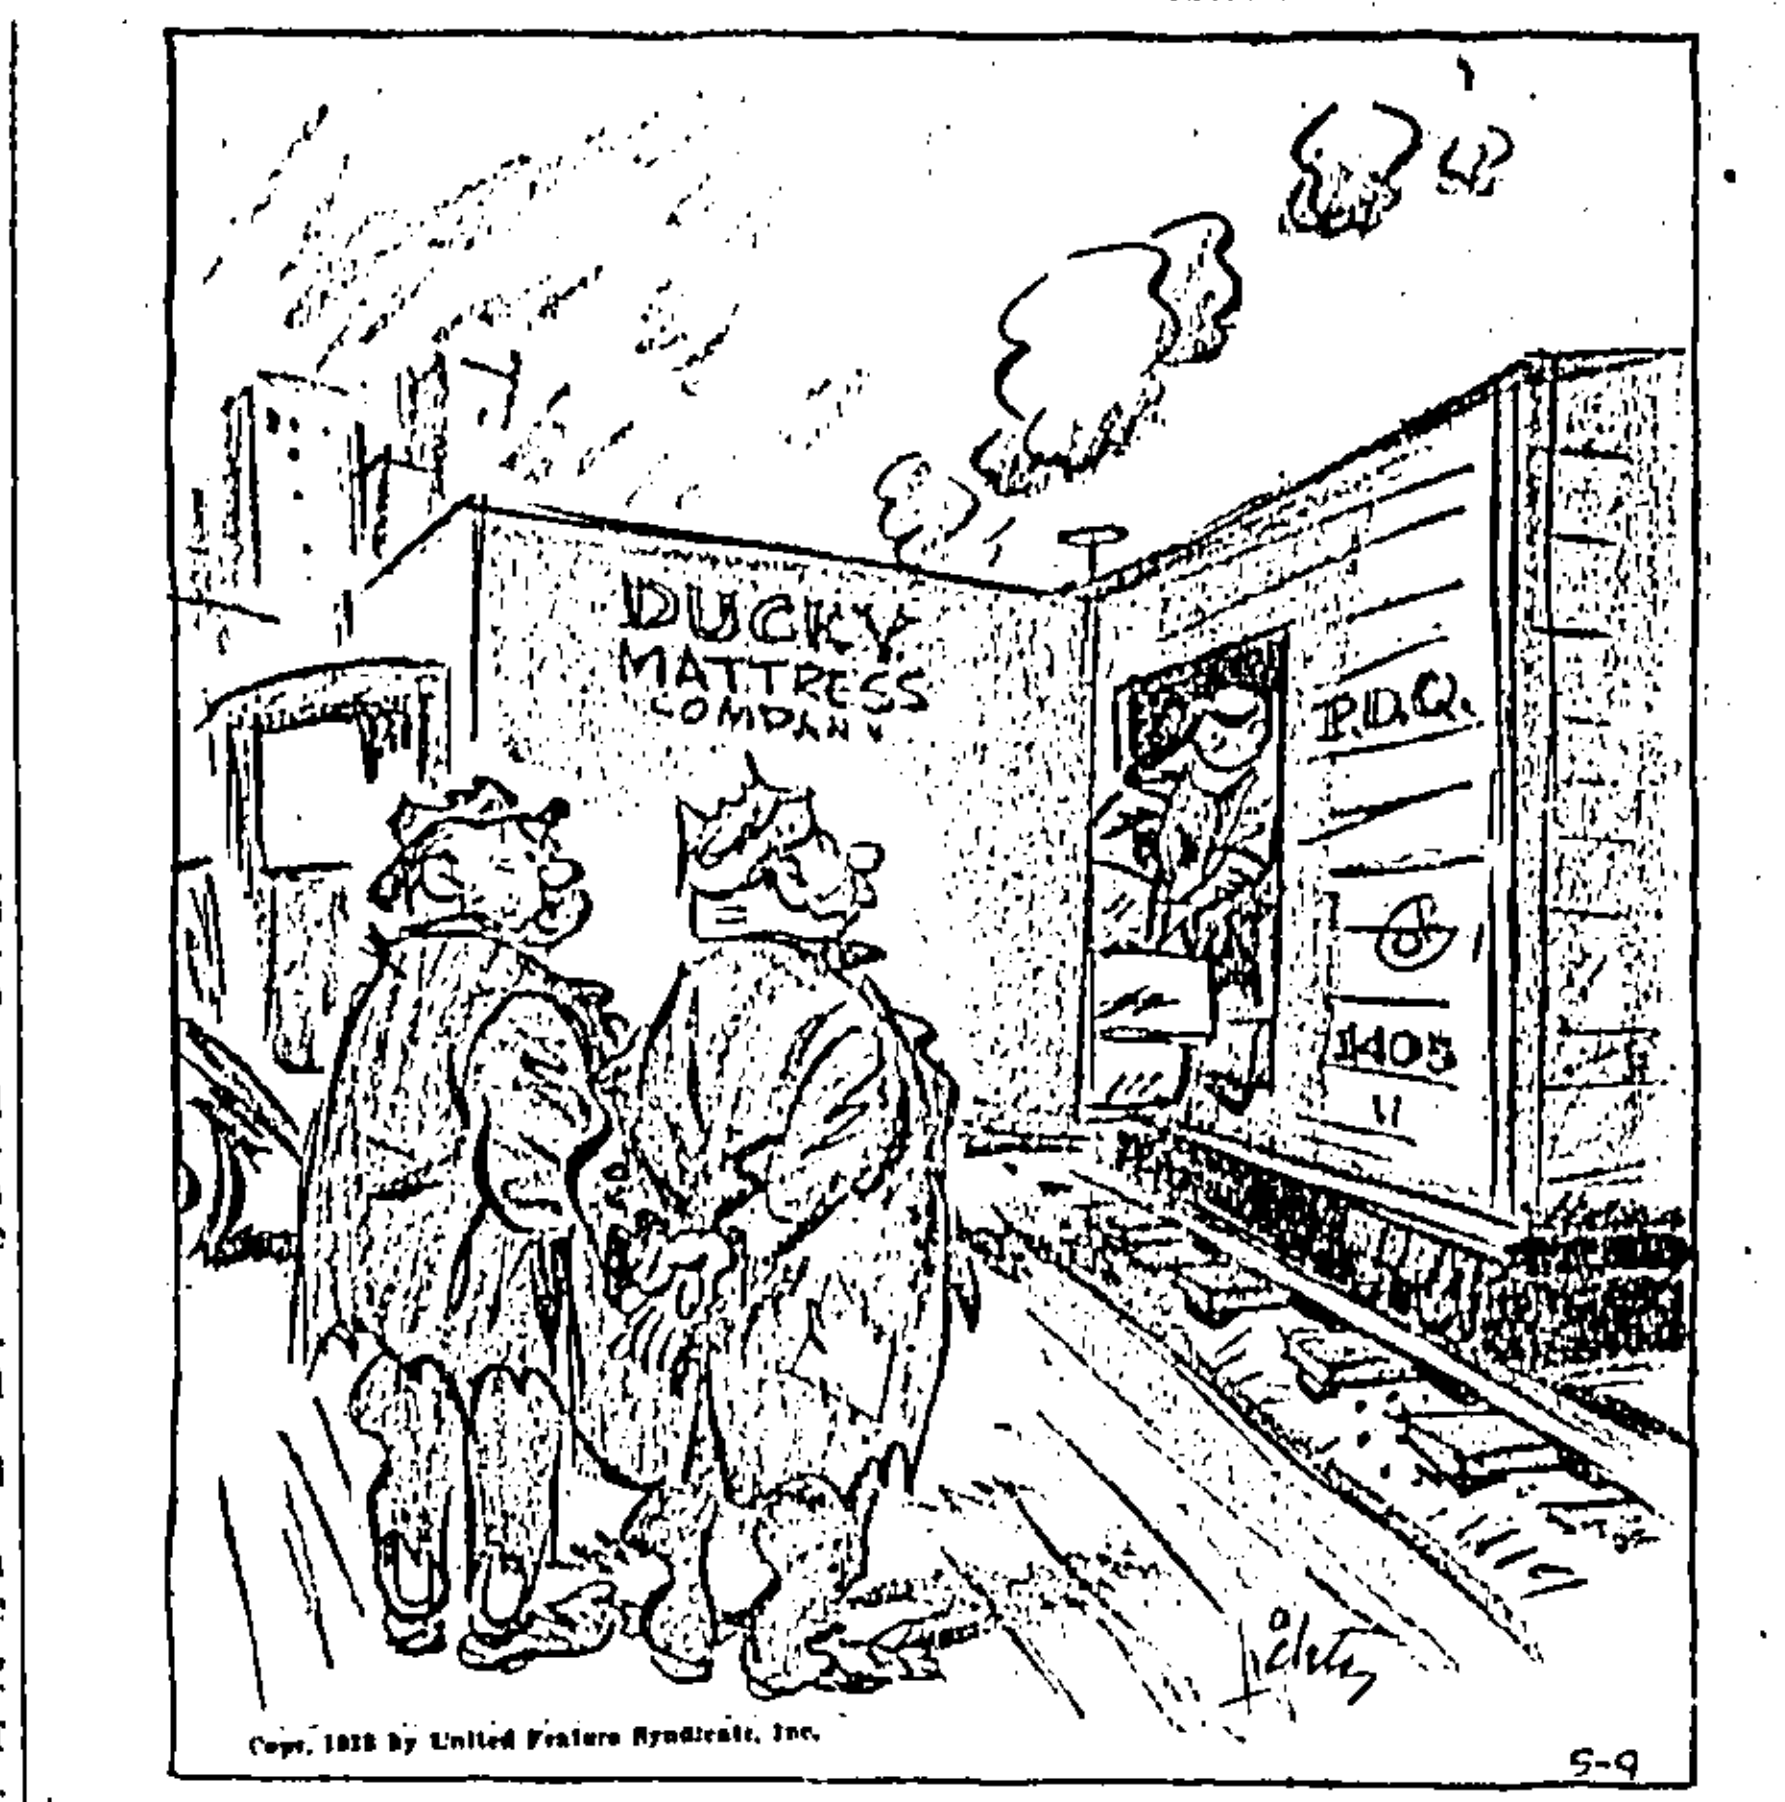

Finally, bearing in mind the enterprise which Japan is prosecuting in China, it is really astonishing that the Hochi Shimbun can see piracy in anything so innocuous as the French action in the Paracels.

Over-Night Hero

The unjust decision was received by the populace with the most marked feelings of disgust. The residents, not only of the Colony, but also of Canton, hastened to present a petition to the Judge, who became over-night a hero. His determination to return at once to England in order to seek justice, made the remainder of his sojourn previous to embarking, almost a gala of entertainment. The suspended Judge was feted everywhere, and the Prince sent a gold snuff-box to him, suitably inscribed. Upon his departure for Home on December 30, on the P. & O. Steamer Pekin, his send off was a regal one indeed. Great crowds thronged to Pedder's Wharf, and the Chinese community, too, attended in large numbers. Flag-waves were everywhere, and the Chinese let off salvos of fire crackers. A champagne tiffin was given to the Judge on board the ship in the harbour, and in every respect, it was as a triumphant rather than suspended dignitary that he took his leave of Hongkong.

Less than six months later, however, he was back again. This time he returned as a fully-reinstated official, his case having been investigated by Lord Grey, Secretary of State for the Colonies. His arrival by the P. & O. Braganza on June 16, 1848 was hailed by the people as a "singular triumph of justice over the dictatorial methods of Governor Davis and his clique." Governor Davis when he heard of it was alleged to have exclaimed: "Glorious news! I am delighted to hear of it." The Government Gazette duly announced the return in the following words: "The Honourable Chief Justice Hulme, having returned to Hongkong, is by the direction of the Right Honourable Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, reinstated in office from this date inclusive."

By Order,
W. CAINE,
Colonial Secretary.
Sir John Davis apparently felt a great deal of chagrin at the unexpected upset of his attempt to "sack" the Chief Justice; for not long afterwards, he wrote Home asking to be allowed to resign. Judge Hulme in the meantime was making himself more popular than ever, and during the remaining years of his stay in the Colony was fortunate in being able to maintain the high opinion of the

"Let's take a stroll while they're making up our berths."

Taking The Sting Out
Of The Future

WE all know what it is to look to the future. As we lie awake in the "wee, wee" hours the coming day stretches out before us like a desert with no oasis promising shade and refreshment to encourage us.

First of all, we cheer ourselves by deciding that as we are not likely to sleep for hours we shall not be fit to meet the day. In imagination, we then see ourselves rising listlessly, eating little or no breakfast, getting into trouble with our superiors, becoming exasperated with our subordinates, and dragging our footsteps home again to a miserable evening, the prelude to another wretched night.

But perhaps you have something more definite to fear. It may be an interview for a post you are very anxious to obtain. You see yourself meeting your fellow applicants, becoming more and more convinced that your claims are nothing in comparison with theirs, then appearing before an unsympathetic committee, failing to do yourself justice, and coming away, miserable and unsuccessful.

The scene unfolds itself before the inward eye with the relentlessness of a cinematograph film, and you gaze at it, experiencing that sense of paralysis which gives its characteristic horror to a nightmare.

Morbid Day-Dreaming

How different will be your emotional reactions when actually faced with the crisis! Nervous and lacking in confidence you may be, but even at its worst the nightmare quality will be absent from the experience, and, whether you are appointed or not, you will rise to the situation and even enjoy it. Why should there be this difference between anticipation and realization?
There are two kinds of looking ahead. There is creative planning for the future, in which our attention is focused upon activities which are the means to some end we wish to reach. This process is predominantly intellectual, and may be called forethought. And there is morbid day-dreaming, during which we are absorbed in the contemplation of the future, in which we imagine our emotional reaction to a situation.

general public. Not even his enemies, and he now proceeded to make many on account of his propensity for awarding harsh sentences in the Supreme Court, could say that he was not at heart a good man. Even Mr. Yorrick Jones Murray, the founder of the Daily Press, who had been sentenced to six months in gaol and a fine of £100 for an alleged libel on Governor Bowring, had a great deal of respect for Judge Hulme on account of his high moral principles. Murray once said of him: "He was neither a bad man nor a corrupt judge." His only defect it seemed was over-severity in the question of sentences to prisoners, and in this, it was said, "he was severe to a degree, and as unjust as severe."

Perhaps the increasing mercilessness of the justice meted out by him from the Bench was due in part to his declining state of health; for eventually he felt that sixteen years in Hongkong was enough, and accordingly applied for sick leave. This was granted and on April 23, 1859, he left the Colony. His long tenure of service here was rewarded by the action of the Government in bestowing upon him an annual pension of £1,500, but he did not long live to enjoy it; for he died on March 1, 1861 at Brighton, aged 61 years.

There are also two ways of reacting to an emergency. The one consists of activities, physical and mental, calculated to enable us to cope with it and, in so far as we are successful, we feel highly exhilarated. If, however we fail, the second type of reaction takes place, and we experience in varying degrees a sense of paralysis or collapse which is exceedingly unpleasant.

Spectator and Actor

Now in the face of forethought we are able, as it were, to "live" the future by an act of constructive imagination; and so also we expect to be able to experience, in advance, the fullest way, emotionally, the sense of power accompanying successful reactions.

But we cannot do this. We should soon get exhausted if we were to meet tomorrow's emotional and physical demands as well as to-day's. So, because we do not feel emotional exhilaration, it is as though we had failed to cope with the situation, and the resultant nightmare sensations of powerlessness and collapse are experienced.

The only way to rob the future of anxiety and to look forward to it with equanimity is to decide, in the first place, that we will not occupy ourselves with situations which are beyond our control and that, when we really require to anticipate the future, we will attend only to the creative planning of activities and not to our possible emotional reactions. In other words, we will exercise forethought, but we will not indulge in morbid day-dreaming.

Another factor which adds poignancy to emotional anticipation is the strange feeling of being a spectator of a scene in which one is also an actor. A man may be watching a friend tumbling over the edge of a cliff in trying to reach a rare plant, and he may suffer agonies of apprehension on his account, whereas, if he himself were doing exactly the same thing, he would feel quite secure.

The reason is that, while he knows that he can control his own actions, he does not feel that he can control those of his friend, and so the possibilities of a serious accident loom large in his mind. Similar conditions prevail when he projects himself into the future. He is master of the self of the moment, but the self of the future is almost like another person, whose reactions he can observe but not direct or manage, and whose experiences he can only share incompletely.

Breaking Point

But then we are not meant to control the self of the future. There is a verse in the Bible which enshrines a fundamental psychological truth: "As thy days, so shall thy strength be." We cannot expect to be conscious of tomorrow's strength till tomorrow dawns. When it comes, bringing its difficulties and its opportunities, Nature has so organized our emotions, our thinking, our physiological endowment of nerve and heart and muscle all work in harmony and enable us to meet them. When, however, we try to use up the resources of the future in the present, we are imposing upon our systems a strain they were never meant to bear. They break down, and mental collapse and paralysis follow.

But why should we not as to bring about such dire results? Let us exercise human forethought creatively, not morbidly, and when we have decided what are the things of tomorrow leave them to the morrow, their rightful and efficient guardian.

London Still Discussing Loan to China

AMERICA PREPARED TO ENTER INTO NEW SILVER AGREEMENT

Chinese Using Funds Thus Obtained to Buy Arms

London, July 12.

It is understood that the question of a loan for China has been constantly under consideration in London. Various suggestions have been made but it is gathered that matters have not yet reached a point where a decision can be reached.—Reuter.

APPALLING SUFFERING REALISED

London, July 12.

It is recognised in London that the situation in the Far East appears to offer no prospect of mediation at present but if the British Government were to see at any moment a hopeful chance of doing good in that sphere it would take that opportunity, either alone or in concert with other nations. This is the view of Reuter's diplomatic correspondent.

Observers in London are extremely conscious of the appalling numbers involved in the suffering which has resulted from the Far East conflict.—Reuter.

Seeking New Silver Agreement With U.S.

Washington, July 12.

It is learned that China this week will seek a new silver agreement with the United States Government. It has been tentatively arranged that Chinese representatives should confer with officials of the Treasury and members of the Government have already indicated that the United States is willing to continue buying Chinese silver.

The proposed new pact would be the fifth made since May, 1936, under which the United States has purchased about 300,000,000 ounces of metal.

Meanwhile, Treasury officials said most of the Chinese credits which resulted from the sale of silver had been converted into dollars, with which war supplies had been purchased.—United Press.

INSURGENT DRIVE ON SAGUNTO

Bitter Fighting For Advantage

Hendaye, July 12.

Three insurgent armies drove forward relentlessly today in an effort to enter Sagunto and break the Valencia offensive before July 17, the second anniversary of the Civil War.

The first army is driving in a westerly direction, twenty miles south of Teruel, following the Turia River to Valencia. The centre column is driving up the Segorbe river, while the third column is straddling the Valencia-Barcelona highway north of Chilches.

Meanwhile, insurgent bombers have cut the Segorbe-Sagunto road in many places.—United Press.

SIX KILLED IN RAID

London, July 12.

The Exchange Telegraph correspondent in Valencia reports that six were killed and ten injured in an insurgent air raid over the city today.—United Press.

24 KILLED

Madrid, July 12.

Seven insurgent bombers raided Cartagena, killing 24 and wounding 33.—United Press.

RAIN STILL HOLDS OFF

While Hongkong was cooler yesterday, rain still held off, and to-day the year's rainfall is 11 inches below average—32.08 inches as compared with 43.05 inches.

Maximum temperature yesterday was 80, with the minimum last night at 70. This morning the temperature was 84 and humidity was 70 per cent.

The Royal Observatory weather report issued this morning stated that a weak anti-cyclone covers the Pacific to the east of Japan. The depression over north-east China is stationary. Pressure is relatively low over Tongking and the southern Philippine islands.

Local forecast is: South-east winds, moderate; fair.

Owners Protest But Embassy Declines To Interfere

Shanghai, July 13.

It is learned in reliable quarters that the Chinese have begun fortifying the properties of foreign firms in Kiating, notably the Asiatic Petroleum Company, Jardine, Matheson and Company and banks' buildings, entrenchments, reinforcing the walls and cutting loop-holes, for riflemen and machine-guns.

The foreign companies have made urgent representations to the Chinese Government in which they have asked the Government to halt this work, announcing they will hold the Government responsible for any damage to their property as a result of such fortification and in the event of a Japanese attack.

The British Embassy has been requested also to protest to the Chinese Government, but it is gathered that as yet the Embassy has refused to act, holding the view that the Chinese Government has the right to use any means to defend the country, including the use of foreign-owned property, providing it is prepared to indemnify foreigners for any loss resulting.

It is reported that the United States Ambassador, who is in Hankow, has vigorously protested to the Chinese authorities against the destruction of the Szechuan Company positions near Kiating. It is estimated that the Chinese hoped to block the approach of Japanese warships.—Reuter.

CLAIM ADVANCE CHECKED

Hankow, July 12.

The Japanese advance on Kiating has been checked by the Chinese seven miles east of the Yangtze city, according to a report received here from the front.

Chinese reinforcements have reached Kiating, and are expected to materially alter the situation.

Incessant Japanese naval and aerial bombardments have caused considerable damage to the Chinese positions on Lion Hill, 12½ miles east of Kiating. This position dominates the Yangtze near Kiating, and the destruction of the Chinese fortifications there has rendered the task of the Japanese in landing reinforcements from their transports much easier.

Military circles in Hankow, nevertheless, regard the position optimistically in view of the fact that the Chinese forces appear to have definitely halted the Japanese advance, compelling the Japanese to land many more reinforcements before they are able to storm the city.

It is also reported that the Chinese forces have launched vigorous attacks between Pengtsch and Hukow, but is it too early yet to ascertain with what result. It appears, however, that the continuing Chinese attacks have made the task of the Japanese who are attempting to advance over the strip of land which connects Lake Poyang with the Yangtze extremely difficult, and the Japanese have been forced to abandon their thrust on Kiating on much larger scale than they at first anticipated.—Trans-Ocean.

MARCH ALONG LAKE

Hankow, July 12.

Simultaneously with their drive on Kiating, the Japanese appear to be making a thrust down the Poyang Lake towards Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province.

A strong force of Japanese is marching southwards along the eastern bank of the lake, which reaches 80 miles south from the Yangtze, into which it feeds, and is about 60 miles north of Nanchang.

An optimistic note is struck in Hankow regarding the strength of the Chinese forces defending this area, and it is believed that the Chinese will be successful in checking Japanese in the hilly country east and south of the lake.—Trans-Ocean.

START NEW SHANSI CAMPAIGN

Peking, July 12.

With the arrival of reinforcements, the Japanese army in Shansi has begun its third large-scale campaign in that province since November, launching a general offensive from south of Pingyang, across the Fen River. Pingyang is in the middle of the southern quarter of Shansi.

Official reports reveal that several Japanese garrisons in this area have been beleaguered for two months, and that planes have dropped food and ammunition to them, as the Chinese had cut all other means of communication.

The Japanese declare the Chinese divisions in the southern section of Shansi will be "annihilated".—Reuter.

REPORT CHINESE RETREAT

Peking, July 12.

The Japanese spokesman announced today that the Chinese had retreated from Hsinyangshan in the southern and northern directions, and the Japanese were now advancing towards Yung-chow. The Chinese are building defences. Aerial observations show that Yung-chow is a strategic point, despite the fact that the town is still completely in possession of the Chinese.

"The Chinese are burning all villages in their line of retreat," the spokesman alleged.—United Press.

AMERICAN FINANCE LEADERS ACCUSED

$1,000,000 Income Tax Evaded, Says Federal Body

Washington, July 12.

Two of America's greatest financiers, John Jacob Raskob and Pierre Du Pont, were accused today by the United States Board of Tax Appeals of evading income tax amounting to over U.S.$1,000,000 in 1929. The Board of Tax Appeals alleges that the two financiers evaded taxation by "paper transactions" in securities, says United Press.

Raskob, who visited Hongkong in March, 1935, as a round-the-world passenger aboard the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Britain, was formerly Vice-President of General Motors Corporation, and took the post of National Chairman of the Democratic Party in 1928. Shortly afterwards, however, he split with President Roosevelt and became one of the founders of the Liberty League. Pierre Du Pont is Chairman of the famous munitions firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours.

The Board of Tax Appeals has left the exact amount of taxes to be determined later. It is estimated that Raskob might be involved to the extent of about $1,000,000 and Du Pont to about $600,000.

Raskob and Du Pont were prominent as political figures in January, 1933, when the United States Government filed a brief against Pierre Du Pont and named Raskob as accomplice, the charge being that upon which the present action is based—"fictitious" stock losses to evade $1,026,340 income tax. Raskob accused the Democratic administration of timing the suit just prior to a general election and of the American Liberty League, and defended his stock trading with Du Pont as the "only method under the law" to legally establish actual stock losses.

The two financiers gained control of the General Motors Corporation in 1913 when they purchased between them 3,000 shares. To-day they own eighty shares, to which General Motors, they borrowed $20,000,000 to do so, and to-day each of the eighty are millionaires many times over.

MYSTERY SHIP OFF H. K.

Reports of a vessel behaving in an unusual fashion, apparently inside Hongkong waters, are causing inquiries to be made by the authorities.

A number of persons observed an unknown vessel, of large dimensions, her funnel well aft, and with the lines of a tanker, lying about a mile south of Cheung Chau early this morning.

Farther to sea was another vessel which appeared to be a destroyer.

The first ship was anchored, it seemed, and after lying in West Lamma Channel for about an hour, proceeded slowly west and rounded the southernmost point of Lantau Island, apparently proceeding for Tai O Bay. There, however, she has not been reported. The vessel has vanished.

It is considered possible that she may have been carrying fuel for Japanese warships on patrol off the Pearl River mouth.

between Kiating and Tsinghsan according to Chinese reports.

A Chinese communique states that the Japanese penetrated the Chinese lines in the vicinity of Hsiangshan on Monday. Chinese counter-attacks on the following morning inflicted 400 casualties on the Japanese, who also lost 2 heavy machine-guns, 3 light machine-guns and over a hundred rifles.

Fighting is also continuing between Hukow and Pengtsch. Chinese sources assert that eight Japanese warships attempting to steam up-stream from Hukow and two Japanese motor launches attempting to enter Lake Poyang on Monday steamed away when they were engaged by the Chinese shore batteries.

Japanese aircraft bombed Lion Hill, west of Hukow, on Monday. With the arrival of reinforcements at Kiating, comprising crack Cantonese troops under the command of General Li Han-wen, Chinese circles are confident that the Japanese attempt to advance westward along the south bank of the Yangtze will meet with stiff opposition.—Reuter.

LEADING COUNTIES WIN CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES

ESSEX BATSMAN MISSES A GREAT HONOUR

London, July 12. Yorkshire, Lancashire, Middlesex, Gloucestershire and Sussex won their matches in the latest County Cricket Championship programme, while Glamorgan took points on first innings from Northants.

Several fine bowling performances were recorded. R. Sinfeld, the Test bowler, took 14 wickets in all for Gloucester against Worcester at a cost of 110 runs, and Howarth sent back 13 Gloucester batsmen in the course of two innings for 133 runs.

J. O'Connor, the Essex batsman, had extremely bad luck in not scoring a century in each innings against Sussex. In the first knock, he was only four short of the mark, but in the second he hit up 152. His fine batting could not prevent his side from being beaten by five wickets, however.

DERBYSHIRE v. YORKSHIRE
At Chesterfield Yorkshire defeated Derbyshire by 163 runs.

Yorkshire were dismissed for 198 in their first innings as the result of fine bowling by George Pope who took six wickets for 37 runs. Derbyshire fared even worse, however, when they went in to bat, being all out for 158.

In their second innings, Yorkshire declared at 210 for seven wickets, but Derbyshire were skittled out for 87.

LEICESTER v. LANCASHIRE
In L. G. Berry's Benefit Match at Leicester, Lancashire defeated Leicestershire by an innings and five runs.

Kowloon C. C. Conclude Programme Beat U.S.R.C. In Tennis League

Kowloon Cricket Club concluded their "A" Division tennis league programme for the season yesterday with an impressive win of 7-2 against the U.S.R.C. in the latter's courts.

Most surprising feature of the match was the astonishing reversal of form by L. Goldman and G. E. R. Divett for the losers. Against Chinese Recreation Club recently they gave a brilliant display. Yesterday neither approached anything like ordinary form, and after losing easily in the first set to the Fincher brothers, trailed love-five against Guest and Gray, before losing the set at 3-6.

The home team was best served by D. C. Misra and Newnam, who won their opening set and took Guest and Gray to 12 games before losing. Misra was in exceptionally good form, serving powerfully and driving with telling effect on the forehand. Newnam produced some nice shot, but was unsteady on the volley and overhead.

J. Smalley played stylish tennis, but was extremely erratic, and Beadnell never settled down.

The visitors all played well. The Fincher brothers were never seriously extended, but when the rallies were lengthened they were fully capable of putting in the winning shot.

FINE SERVING

E. F. Fincher's serving was delightful to watch, and the brothers played as well together in this match as at any time during the current season.

The same can be said about Guest and Gray. Guest was beautifully steady from the baseline and mixed lengthy drives with ideal jobs in judicious fashion. Gray preferred the forecourt, but was not always dependable from this position, and scored better with his forehand drive.

Blum, brought in for Burnett who is on holiday, gave a creditable account of himself in partnership with Crawford, and the pair did well to snatch one set.

DETAILED SCORES WERE:

L. Goldman and G. E. R. Divett (U.S.R.C.) lost to E. C. Fincher and E. F. Fincher 2-6; lost to A. E. P. Guest and S. A. Gray 2-6; beat A. Crawford and E. Blum 6-2.

R. Newnam and D. C. Misra (U.S.R.C.) lost to Fincher and Fincher 1-6; lost to Guest and Gray 5-7; beat Crawford and Blum 6-4.

J. Smalley and C. Beadnell (U.S.R.C.) lost to Fincher and Fincher 0-6; lost to Guest and Gray 2-6; lost to Crawford and Blum 3-6.

RECREIO v. H.K.C.C.

Although without H. Gonsalves and Barros, Club de Recreio "A" Division team managed to win their last match of the season against the Cricket Club yesterday by the odd set. The match was played at King's Park, and the home side introduced two "B" Division players into the side—J. J. Remedios and M. A. Oliveira.

The detailed scores were:
A. V. Remedios and A. V. Gonsalves (Recreio) lost to H. Owen-Hughes and G. W. Sewell 2-6; beat T. A. Pearce and A. Sander 6-2; beat Dow and G. Bidwell 6-1.

F. J. Remedios and J. J. Remedios (Recreio) beat Owen-Hughes and Sewell 6-2; lost to Pearce and Sander 4-6; beat Dow and Bidwell 6-1.

M. A. Oliveira and J. Barretto (Recreio) lost to Owen-Hughes and Sewell 4-6; lost to Pearce and Sander 5-7; beat Dow and Bidwell 6-4.

"C" DIVISION MATCH

KOWLOON TONG BEAT CLUB DE RECREIO
In an important "C" Division league match, which is bound to have a bearing on the championship, Kowloon Tong, yesterday defeated Club de Recreio by five sets to four.

Soccer Players To Be Numbered

London, June 30. It was decided at the summer meeting of the Football Association at Scarborough that the players, other than the goalkeeper, shall be numbered in the F.A. Cup final and semi-finals, international matches, international trials and the F.A. charity shield match. The match between England and the Rest of Europe in connection with the 75th anniversary celebrations of the F.A. will be played on the Arsenal ground on Oct. 26. The Rest of Europe team will be selected by the F.I.F.A.

Bowls

NARROW VICTORIES REGISTERED

Two Players Lose By One Shot

(By "Abe")

Further progress was made in the Lawn Bowls singles championship yesterday when four more matches in the first round were played.

Two interesting ties were decided on the Hongkong F.C. green, S. M. White beating F. Nolan by 21-17 and W. J. Howard beating D. M. Khan by 21-20.

Although the game between Howard and Khan was perhaps the more exciting of the two because of its close finish, the one between White and Nolan undoubtedly produced the better standard of play.

Indeed White and Nolan had some very fine heads in which the woods were all-glittered round the Jack. Nolan kept ahead for most of the way, but while leading 10-15 he dropped a four on the 20th head, which swung the game round to White's favour. After conceding a single, White finished the match with a brace on the 22nd head.

Fortunes fluctuated from one side to the other in the encounter between Howard and Khan. It was Howard who led for the majority of the match, but he slipped up badly in the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th heads when he allowed his opponent to score seven shots to force ahead by 14-12. When Khan led 17-14 and followed up with a brace and a single to lead 20-16 on the 24th head, he seemed to have the match "in the bag" but on the very next head he sent down four wide woods, and taking advantage of this Howard chalked up a three to reduce the arrears. A single on the 26th end put Howard on level terms, and another single on the 27th saw him through.

McKELVIE BEATEN

On the Kowloon C.C. green, J. McKelvie failed to maintain his early form against F. V. Ribeiro and was beaten by 21-14. McKelvie led 7-0 at the end of the first three ends, but Ribeiro improved to such good purpose that he allowed his opponent to score only on three other heads out of the 21 played.

Altogether McKelvie scored on six heads, but he had four threes and two singles. A ding-dong game was played between J. E. Henson and A. R. Minu. The scores were fairly even all the way. The two were tied at 18-18; then Henson led 20-18; Minu drew level, and in the 26th end Henson took a single to enter the round.

Open Pairs Semi-Finals For To-Day

The semi-finals of the Open Pairs championship will be played to-day at 4.30 p.m. on the Civil Service C.C. green.

The two matches are as follows:
J. Howell and R. G. Craig v. G. N. Mitchell and J. C. Brown.

C. M. Silva and F. X. Soares v. A. Bakar and A. K. Minu. Both matches promise to be more than ordinarily as the pairs seem to be very well-matched. Their win over the Omar brothers, holders of the title, has revealed Howell and Craig to be a pair to be seriously reckoned with, but their opponents to-day, Mitchell and Brown, are also playing extremely well at the moment.

C. M. Silva and F. X. Soares were not highly thought of even by their club-mates when the competition commenced, but on their belts are now hanging the scalps of several fancied pairs. Silva is a very steady hand, and Soares is painstaking in everything he does. A. K. Minu will be out to avenge the defeat of his younger brother who, with J. Hoosen, was beaten by Silva and Soares. Bakar will be a good match for Silva, and much will depend on Minu and Soares on the outcome of this encounter.

AMATEURS KICK A FOOTBALL 40,000 MILES ROUND WORLD

Miss Alice ("Killer") Marble is seen here congratulating Miss Kay Stammers at the end of their Wrightman Cup encounter in which the English girl surprisingly defeated the American champion in the opening singles. The United States easily retained the trophy.

May Be Possible For 1942

London, July 13. The second Test match has begun. Most followers of the game have already made up their minds that unless the weather plays pranks with the wicket it will result, as did the previous match at Nottingham, in high scoring and a draw. In fact, having regard to the wickets of cricket, it is surprising the number of people who are convinced that the present series will be decided on the first match, which is to be played to a finish.

Mr. R. E. S. Wyatt, of Warwickshire, who would almost certainly have been among England's selected had he not joined the ranks of cricket-journalists, has already put forward the suggestion that when the Australians visit us in 1942 Test matches should be of five days duration.

Budge Surprisingly Beaten At Belgrade

Belgrade, July 12. Donald Budge, present Wimbledon champion and holder of nearly all the major tennis titles in the world, was surprisingly defeated to-day in an exhibition match by Kukuljevic, the young Czechoslovak Davis Cup player. Budge was beaten by 15-13, 7-5.—Reuter.

Lord Hawke, the "Grand Old Man of Cricket," who is the treasurer and a trustee of the M.C.C., governing body of the game, said: "I think it quite likely that the five-days game will be introduced for the next series of Test matches. Anyhow, I expect it will come eventually."

They Lost only 8 Games in 95

By Fangloss

London, June 6. Eight months after setting out on a 40,000-miles world tour, during which they played football in the jungles of India and amid Canadian snows—and lost only 8 of their 95 matches—the Ilington Corinthians arrived back in London yesterday.

"You have kicked the football round the world, and put British sport on the map throughout the world," said Mr. W. F. Pickford, president of the Football Association, welcoming the players when their ship docked at Southampton.

Here is the record of a wonderful tour:

Games played 95; won 65; lost 8. Goals for 237. Against, 70. In India the players—amateurs all—set up a record by playing 32 games in 46 days, travelling long distances by night to keep to schedule.

They were guests of Indian princes, and after playing in Alexandria were presented to King Farouk. Everywhere they found the true spirit of sportsmanship—and excellent playing pitches. The turf in Malaya was exceptionally good.

IN BARE FEET

In the Punjab they opposed Sikhs with long beards and uncut hair, who kicked in bare feet. Within four miles of the Afghan frontier at Fort Mandi Kotah, they played where 3,000 troops live behind barbed wire—in a space that includes soccer and hockey grounds.

At Hazirabad the Rajah's pet leopard growled fiercely at the team mascot—a stuffed woolly lion carried on the field before every match. It vanished at Singapore. Members of the party have been told since that it is now worshipped by superstitious Malayan villagers.

A Saigon match referee could not speak a word of English, and the Tunbridge Wells Rangers full-back, H. Martin, had to rush up the field to interpret decisions spoken in French.

SHADOW OF WAR

War shadows intruded more than once on the tour.

On the way from Hongkong to Macao, surrounded by Chinese Junk, Japanese seaplanes swooped down on the steamer—but the pilots saw the big Union Jack painted on the bridge and no bombs were dropped. In the little "spare time" their strenuous programme permitted the travellers saw the Alps, Pompeii, Naples, the Pyramids, Taj Mahal, tombs of the Mogh. Emperors, and Singapore, with its naval base.

Then on the way home came Los Angeles, Hollywood, Frisco and Niagara Falls.

STAR'S NIGHT CLUB

At Hollywood Heather Angel was the official hostess and the players were also entertained by Victor Mac-taglen at his own night club.

The Ilington Corinthians are an affiliation of well-known amateur Association players who formerly competed in the London Mid-Week League. Ilington Rotarians organised this tour.

The 18 players—17 for the last two months—included two schoolmasters, a County cricketer, a garage keeper, clerks and other black-coated workers. All but three are Londoners.

The team's manager, Mr. Tom Smith, paid striking tribute to "the boys" when they parted at the end of the tour. They had been true ambassadors of Britain, he said. "We have not left a single enemy behind us."

Surprise Results In American P. G. A. Golf

Shownee-on-Delaware, July 12. The biggest surprise in the first round of the American Professional Golf Association's tournament, played to-day, was the defeat of Harry Cooper, one of the most consistent golfers in the world.

Cooper was beaten by an "unknown," Felix Serran, who won by four and three.

Many prominent American Ryder Cup golfers were successful, however. Denmore Shute beat Clyde Ueha three and two; Paul Runyan beat Levi Lynch five and four; Gene Sarazen beat Leo Walper four and three; Ralph Guldahl beat John Malutic four and two; McSpaden beat Sam Parks, Jr. three and two; Ed Dudley beat Farrel three and two; Frank Moore, who with two rounds of 68, headed the list of qualifiers, beat Ernie Ball at the nineteenth.

SECOND ROUND

In the second round, Shute beat John Thoren, of Brookline, Mass., seven and six; Horton Smith beat Diegel four and three; Runyan beat Tony Manera three and two; Billy Burke beat Moore at the 10th; Ray Mangrum beat McSpaden at the 20th; Harry Baster beat Dudley four and three; and Metz beat Guldahl one up.—Reuter.

Best Performances

The following were the best individual performances:

Batting

O'Connor (Essex) v. Sussex ..... 96 and 152
Hart (Middlesex) v. Notts ..... 105

Bowling

Sinfeld (Gloucester) v. Worcester ..... 8 for 65 and 6 for 45

J. W. A. Stephenson (Essex) v. Sussex ..... 5 for 84 only visit to the wicket yielded 385 for eight wickets declared.

NOTTS v. MIDDLESEX

At Nottingham, Middlesex defeated Notts by nine wickets.

Middlesex declared their first innings at 304 for seven wickets, Hart hitting up 105 and Heane taking six wickets for 98 runs.

GLAMORGAN v. NORTHANTS

At Pontypridd, Glamorgan took points on first innings from Northamptonshire.

Glamorgan totalled 299 for seven wickets declared. In reply Northants were first dismissed for 100. J. C. Clay taking seven wickets for 49 runs. In the follow-on, Northants had made 79 for seven wickets when stumps were drawn.

WORCESTER v. GLOUCESTER

At Stourbridge Gloucestershire defeated Worcestershire by 34 runs.

Gloucester made 237 (Howarth 7 for 85) and 198 (Howarth six for 48), while Worcester scored 113 (Sinfeld 6 for 45) and 195 (Sinfeld 8 for 65).

SUSSEX v. ESSEX

At Hove, Sussex defeated Essex by five wickets.

Essex made 185 in their first innings, of which O'Connor made 96, and 335 in the second, O'Connor this time scoring 152.

Sussex replied with 282 (Stephenson 5 for 84) and 242 for five wickets.

WANTED TO SHINE ROOSEVELT'S SHOES: MAN HELD INSANE

Wichita, July 12. The man who tried to jump on President Roosevelt's car as it was driving through Oklahoma City has been adjudged insane and committed to an asylum.

The man was knocked down by a secret service officer, and was severely pummelled by soldiers and police before being arrested.

He said he merely wanted to shine the President's shoes.—Reuter.

FACTORY GIRLS HURT IN BLAST

London, July 12. A number of girls were injured when an explosion occurred in an ice cream factory in South London.

Several of the girls were blinded and choking as they rushed out of the factory, and 20 received slight burns.

Firemen had to wear gas masks to enter the premises.—Reuter.

MUSICIANS PLAY ON HOP TO RIO

They thought it up for the movies five years ago—now it's really happening.

A dance band is "flying down to Rio" aboard a Clipper plane of Pan-American Airways, and accompanying the ten musicians is a dancing troupe of ten with their leader.

The 21 of them are travelling companions of Andre Kostelanetz, world famed conductor and his bride, Lily Pons, Metropolitan Opera star, who previously had reserved space on the same Clipper for their combined honeymoon and concert trip to Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires.

The dance band is Maximilian Bergere's which is to operate at the Copacabana Casino in Rio de Janeiro.

Like Gene Raymond and his musicians in the movie "Flying Down to Rio," the Bergere musicians have their instruments with them—except for bass drum, "dog house" and piano. They will play aboard the Clipper with three saxophones, violin, three trumpets, two accordions and guitar.

THE GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST

Synopsis: It is the year 1840 and Mary, owner of the Polka Saloon in Cloudy, California, has been visiting Father Sierra at Monterey. On route, she has been held up by Ramon, the bandit and later, at the Governor's office, she has been held up again. This time he is disguised as a young Lieutenant. But when officers approach, he disappears. Sheriff Jack Rance, who is determined to capture the outlaw, has set a trap for him, by spreading the rumor that a great deal of gold is at present banked at the Polka Saloon.

Chapter Seven

Riding up to the Polka that night Ramon dismounted and strode through the doors with all the assurance of an honest citizen passing across the state. In his simple citizen's garb there was nothing about him to suggest the bandit leader who planned to rob the place that night.

Leaning over the bar, Nick said cordially: "What'll you have stranger?"

"Whiskey and water."

Nick smiled. "Sorry partner, we don't serve no fancy drinks."

A flicker of humor passed over Ramon's face. "I'll settle for plain whiskey."

With the bottle and glass in front of him, he glanced around the place. The roulette wheel was spinning and a crowd of faces added to the room's ecstacy.

In one corner some men were playing cards. In another sat a sharp-faced person, with a military air.

Out before him, Ramon glimpsed the flash of a shield. Ah, the sheriff. He was watching him too, from under those gimlet eyes. Probably

He hesitated briefly, then, "Golden Hair, I have a confession to make." His head came closer to him across the bar. "I'm not a soldier, never was, excepting when I wanted to meet you. You see, I heard the Governor was going to send an officer for you and, well—I decided to be the officer."

Mary felt her breath catch. This was better than the love stories she had read. Her nose crinkled. "In that way you and I make a good away that night?"

He answered in the same confidential tone. "You sure. I had to know you and I couldn't figure any other way to meet you."

She asked quickly to cover her happy confusion. "What are you doing here?"

"Looking for you."

"You're lying—aren't you?"

Ramon's face was close to hers. "Few can you say that when I'm standing right before you, looking straight at you?"

Mary had no opportunity to reply for Ramon was at Ramon's elbow.

"Sorry I had to question you, Lieutenant Johnson," he said curtly, "but I didn't know you were a friend of the girl."

Ramon's eyes were very big about it. "Oh, that's all right. I didn't know you either."

"This is Sheriff Rance," Mary beamed.

"Yes?" Ramon's eyebrows jumped exaggeratedly. "If I'd known that before, I wouldn't have talked so brazenly because I've heard of Sheriff Jack Rance."

Ramon's stare was like an icicle.

"Why sure. In my part of the country they say you're the one Sheriff who always gets his man."

"Where you from?"

"Up North. I mean, I'm not from Monterey?"

"Yes, Monterey."

"If that where you got to know under those gimlet eyes. Probably

Chapter Eight

There was a long silence as Ramon watched the departing Sheriff.

"What would he give, he wouldn't, to see their faces, if they but knew that the man they were pursuing was merely his aide Mosquito instead of Ramon himself?"

"If," Mary said slowly, "you could shuffle Jack like a deck of cards, only he's just a little funny, when it comes to me."

Again, Ramon tasted bitterness. The girl spoke as if Jack Rance owned her.

Mary turned to the bartender. "Nick, put out the lights and bolt the back windows and doors."

"So early?"

"There's a lot of money here and with the boys out chasing Ramon."

"Up North, I mean, I'm not from Monterey?"

Ramon's eyes had grown unnaturally bright like those of a cat in the dark. Now, he had only to find me."

"Why don't you?"

She looked away. Gosh, she was acting awfully bold. He probably expected her to take him as lightly as he took her. "Well, let's say that I do. Better?"

"Much better. Where do you live?"

"In that cabin up there."

"Isn't it lonely?"

"The mountains, lonely." A bit of moonlight had picked out her starry eyes. "Besides I've got a Pinto that I go all over the country on."

In a hushed voice, he went on for her. "Where the foothills are covered with Indian pinks."

"And tiger lilies. Almost wonderingly she looked at him. "Have you done that too?"

"Yes."

They didn't speak for a moment, just letting the magic draw them together in a now, infinitely sweet silence. Then, "Who is this Dante you were talking about down in the Polka?" Mary asked.

"He was an Italian poet who loved a lady called Beatrice and his pulsebeat quickened. 'He was willing to risk everything for just one hour with her!'"

"Did he get that hour?"

"No." He had her hands again. "That's where I've got it on Dante."

Thinking, comparing, weighing, Mary asked, "Did he ever see her again?"

"No. Golden Hair but he remembered her the rest of his life—I'll remember you."

She glanced up at him with a new kind of fear. Knowing a premonitory loneliness. "That sorta sounds like you don't expect to see me again."

wondering who he was.

Nick put the thought into words. "Stranger in these parts, ain't you?"

"Yes. Just rode over from the crossing."

"See any Mexicans on the trail?"

"Looking for one?"

"The Sheriff is?"

It was a dangerous moment to just but Ramon could not let the chance go by. "Well," he glibbed, "if the Sheriff's looking for him, he's safe."

He had spoken loudly enough so that every man in the place had heard. Slowly, ominously, Sheriff Rance crossed the room to him.

"Look here, stranger. I don't like your style. What's your business here?"

"Oh, I'm just looking around."

Ramon's grin was engaging. "You don't mind do you?"

Almost livid now, Rance spoke furiously to the others. "Boys, this hombre want to see me."

In an instant, menacing group the men gathered around. Some of them already had their hands on their holsters. In this crude, raw era it was dangerous for a man to move in an aura of mystery.

Facing them, Ramon leaned against the bar, in a mocking attitude of nonchalance. "You boys certainly don't go in much for hospitality, do you?"

"Well, be kind to welcome you stranger," Rance said tightly, "soon as we know who you're moonin' on."

And to advise you to spill it before some of the boys start gettin' mad."

He had no more than finished when Mary's voice spoke from the doorway. "Just a minute Jack. I'll vouch for him."

Poised forward on one foot, her lips slightly parted, she stood there glowing radiant. This wasn't a vision. It was really her lieutenant, actually here in their midst.

Spinning around, Ramon saw her. "Golden Hair! He crossed to her quickly. "What are you doing here?"

"Why—I—"

Her powers of speech seemed to have deserted her. What would he think of the Governor's honor guard, now that he knew her to be just a saloon keeper?

"The Girl owns the Polka," Nick put in helpfully.

Ramon's eyes as if a burning brand had seared his breast. "You own the Polka?" This was the place he had come to rob. Even now, Pedro and his men were waiting for his signal. And suddenly, the ugly truth smashed into square between the eyes. It was Golden Hair who was his prey. And all innocent of his purpose, she was welcoming him to her roof.

"Yes, I am the owner," she said simply. "Can I buy you a drink?"

He pulled himself together, aware that Rance was glaring furiously at them both. "Yes, sure. If I don't have to take it straight again."

"It's all right boys," Mary laughed, walking behind the bar. "Lieutenant Johnson is a friend of mine."

The room seemed to relax, yet eyes were still watchful. Trying to quiet her heart, Mary nodded at Ramon. "By the way, welcome your soldier's suit, Lieutenant."

Mary thought it was high time she interposed. Jack was a going to make that man look like a question mark. "We met at the Governor's Rancho, Jack."

"You're a Lieutenant?" Rance asked, "where's your uniform?"

"Oh, I left the Army." Oh, thought Ramon, so my fine-the-dread friend would not only like to catch me as the bandit but be jealous of my acquaintance with Mary as well. And then an unexpected man went through him. "Jenious! That might mean the man had some claim on Golden Hair."

"You see," he went on, "we weren't mad at Mexico any more and we've taken everything the Indians had to give us so I thought I'd do a little prospecting. He lit a cigarette and applied it to a cigarette.

"Understand there's a lot of gold down here."

"Yes," Rance said incisively, "and these friends would not only like to catch me as the bandit but be jealous of my acquaintance with Mary as well. And then an unexpected man went through him. "Jenious! That might mean the man had some claim on Golden Hair."

"Understand there's a lot of gold down here."

"Yes," Rance said incisively, "and these friends would not only like to catch me as the bandit but be jealous of my acquaintance with Mary as well. And then an unexpected man went through him. "Jenious! That might mean the man had some claim on Golden Hair."

"You see," he went on, "we weren't mad at Mexico any more and we've taken everything the Indians had to give us so I thought I'd do a little prospecting. He lit a cigarette and applied it to a cigarette.

wait for the proper moment before signalling to his men outside. He said, with just a tinge of pride, "This Ramon must be a pretty smart fellow."

Jamming home the bolt, Mary turned. "I don't think he's so smart."

"No?"

"No. If he was, he wouldn't be stealin' from people comin' out here to make their homes. He's smart in the West. If he was smart, he'd know men don't have to rob and kill like wolves to live."

Ramon's eyes had grown unnaturally bright like those of a cat in the dark. Now, he had only to find me."

"Why don't you?"

She looked away. Gosh, she was acting awfully bold. He probably expected her to take him as lightly as he took her. "Well, let's say that I do. Better?"

"Much better. Where do you live?"

"In that cabin up there."

"Isn't it lonely?"

"The mountains, lonely." A bit of moonlight had picked out her starry eyes. "Besides I've got a Pinto that I go all over the country on."

"Sometimes when there's snow up here I ride down into the summer."

In a hushed voice, he went on for her. "Where the foothills are covered with Indian pinks."

"And tiger lilies. Almost wonderingly she looked at him. "Have you done that too?"

"Yes."

They didn't speak for a moment, just letting the magic draw them together in a now, infinitely sweet silence. Then, "Who is this Dante you were talking about down in the Polka?" Mary asked.

"He was an Italian poet who loved a lady called Beatrice and his pulsebeat quickened. "He was willing to risk everything for just one hour with her!'"

"Did he get that hour?"

"No." He had her hands again. "That's where I've got it on Dante."

Thinking, comparing, weighing, Mary asked, "Did he ever see her again?"

"No. Golden Hair but he remembered her the rest of his life—I'll remember you."

She glanced up at him with a new kind of fear. Knowing a premonitory loneliness. "That sorta sounds like you don't expect to see me again."

"His voice was weighted with melancholy. "I may not, Golden Hair. Tomorrow I'm liable to be far away from here."

This time she did not consider her conduct. Recklessly she spoke the words that pounded in her brain. "You can come back can't you? That is, if you want to see me and enough."

"Al-ways," he said, "but he had been cautious when it came to women. Now, all sorts of desires were making demands upon him. What would he care for a little glimpse of her matter? Surely, there was no harm in that. Afterwards, he would be able to give her his existence."

"But," he said, "who is there to say what love will do?"

"Love!" Stepping back, she put her hands to her cheeks, flaming in the darkness. "You mean, 'who is there to say what love will do?'"

"Oh, sorry to hear that," she said, "but the Sheriff just got back and he's lookin' for you. Gosh, he's bein' mad on account of Ramon's givin' him the slip."

"A voice spoke out of the night. It was Alabama. "Oh, sorry to hear that," she said, "but the Sheriff just got back and he's lookin' for you. Gosh, he's bein' mad on account of Ramon's givin' him the slip."

Queen Marie Of Rumania Seriously Ill

But Her Country's Papers Cannot Print Story

Bucharest, July 13.
The Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania is reported to be critically ill at Weisses Hirsch, near Dresden, to where she was taken from Meran some weeks ago to enter the world-famed sanatorium.

Despite specialist treatment at the Weisses Hirsch sanatorium, the Dowager Queen, who has suffered from a severe liver complaint for over two years, is reported to be growing worse.

It is stated in Bucharest that the Dresden specialists refused to accept the responsibility of removing Queen Marie from the sanatorium to Bucharest, and King Carol has accordingly made all preparations to hurry to his mother's sick-bed in the event of extreme emergency.

The Council of Ministers met several times yesterday, and has taken all the requisite steps to provide for a representative of the King during his absence from the country. A strict censorship is being imposed on all Rumanian newspapers, which are not allowed to mention the Dowager Queen's illness.—Trans-Ocean.

REPORTS DISCOUNTED

Dresden, July 13.
Alarming reports regarding the critical state of Dowager Queen Marie's health are somewhat discounted here with the issue of a statement by Queen Marie's physicians, stating that the Queen is in no serious danger.

The statement continues that Queen Marie was well enough on Tuesday to make a trip by motor car to Dresden.

When the course of treatment at the Weisses Hirsch sanatorium is completed, Queen Marie intends to return to Bucharest and will then proceed to her summer residence at Sinaia.—Trans-Ocean.

Roosevelt As Mediator

Washington, July 12.
President Roosevelt has accepted the invitation of Senor Jose Cantilo, President of the Gran Chaco Peace Conference, to arbitrate between Bolivia and Paraguay regarding the boundaries of the disputed Chaco region.

The two South American republics fought a bloody war for possession of the swampy Chaco strip without reaching any conclusion before, both exhausted by the long drawn-out war, may signed an Armistice. Over two years have intervened since the Armistice was signed and they are no nearer a settlement.

Owing to his many other duties, President Roosevelt has delegated the task of arbitrating between the two nations to Mr. Spruille Braden, the U.S. Minister to Colombia.—United Press.

STOP PRESS

PARACELS PROBLEM DISCUSSED

Tokyo, July 13.
Commenting on the French occupation of the Paracel Islands, the Asahi Shimbun, leading Tokyo daily, says that Japan is now asking that the rights of those Japanese now working on the islands may be respected, but that this question is of secondary importance only.

The paper points out that the main issue lies in the fact that France carried out her occupation of the islands illegally, and contrary to the French Ambassador's notification of September 18 last year, which stated that no occupation of the Paracel Islands would be attempted before the dispute between France and the National Government of China had been settled.

The French occupation of the Paracel Islands, therefore, the Asahi considers, may be regarded as an ignoring on the part of France of the Japanese suspension of traffic along the China coast, which suspension, the Asahi points out, has been in force since August of last year.—Domei.

Flood Toll In Japan

Kobe, July 13.
The police report to-day places the number of deaths in the recent floods in Hyogo Prefecture at 451, of which number 378 are from Kobe.

The injured now total 4,907, whereof 4,455 are from Kobe; and the missing total 218.—Domei.

JURY OUT IN PEAK MURDER TRIAL

The jury in the trial of Lam Chun, charged with the murder of Mrs. Sybil Challinor, retired at a few minutes after 3 p.m. to-day.

Mr. Justice Lindell, acting Chief Justice, had completed his summing up in half an hour.

Shanghai St. Divans Very Numerous

Distributing Point Discovered

"It's not worth it. You know what happens to people who are caught at this beastly trade," commented Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Magistrate's this morning when Mark King-lun, 30, admitted that he was paid 50 cents a day to look after a heroin divan in Shanghai Street.

Revenue Officer E. T. Warden said he had raided the divan, which occupied a whole first floor in Shanghai Street, on the night of July 5. The place was a distributing depot for heroin pills as well as 4,010 pills being found in Mark's possession. Twenty-three smokers had been caught.

Sentence of 12 months hard labour, together with a fine of $2,000 or a further six months was passed.

Another divan keeper, Li Pun, 31, was sentenced to nine months and fined $170 or three months for the possession of 354 pills at a near-by flat. This was the third time a divan had been found at his address.

Chan Ying-wan, 41, was fined $150 or six months, and sentenced to an additional four months for the possession of 70 pills and two mace of opium at another divan in Shanghai Street.

Before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen in the first court, Lam Hing, 22, was sentenced to six months and fined $725 or six months for the possession of 725 pills at a place in Shanghai Street.

Smart Work By Police Follows Theft Report

Quick work by the Police resulted in the recovery of trophies, stolen from the residence of Mr. F. J. Atkins, of 7 Magazine Gap Road, a few hours after a report had been made.

Mr. Atkins reported the loss of a number of trophies and a clock, valued at $120, late last night.

Most of the trophies were recovered this morning when a man named Ho Tak was arrested. He will be charged in connection with the theft.

FRANCE PLANS NEW LOAN

Paris, July 12.
A short term loan, the amount of which has not yet been disclosed, will be floated shortly by the French Government to cover the current year's Budget deficit of several milliard francs.

The loan will be issued in the form of National Defence bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 3½ per cent., and redeemable within 18 months of issue.

It is anticipated that the greater part of the issue will be allocated to the Bank of France.—Trans-Ocean.

TO-MORROW

It is officially announced that the Duchess of Gloucester after a very busy year of many engagements, has been advised to take a complete rest.

The Duke and Duchess will shortly leave for Kenya. They are expected to return to England early in November.—Reuter.

Prior to her marriage to the Duke of Gloucester the Duchess spent most of her time in Kenya, where her uncle, Lt. Col. Lord Francis Scott, farms extensively.

The Duchess, who is 37 years of age, is a well-known sportswoman, a lover of horses and a clever artist. She has done a good deal of painting, the majority of her subjects having Kenya as a background.

MEMORIAL TO LATE KING

London, July 12.
A Memorial window was unveiled to-day at Winchester Cathedral by Mr. Joseph B. Kennedy, U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, in memory of the late King George V.

The window was presented by American citizens residing in England.

The American Ambassador said that King George V had a very warm and special place in the hearts of the American people.—Reuter.

Permanent Office To Aid Refugees

It is understood that the International Refugee Conference has reached a provisional agreement to establish in London a permanent inter-Governmental organisation to deal with problem of refugees from Germany.

The organisation will probably hold its first meeting in London on August 3.

A draft resolution drawn up by Great Britain, France and the United States, dealing with the composition of the organisation, will be submitted to the delegations by Mr. Myron Taylor, the American Chairman of the Conference.

Delegates are referring the resolution to their respective Governments and it is hoped that it will be ready for adoption at the concluding session on July 15.—Reuter.
